SC sets up panel, pauses farm laws

KANU SARDA @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday issued an "extraordinary order" to stay the implementation of the three disputed farm laws and set up a panel of four agriculture experts to talk to all stakeholders and report back to the court within two months.

A bench headed by Chief Justice of India S A Bobde stayed till further orders the Farmers (Empowerment and Protection) Agreement of Price Assurance and Farm Services Act; Farmers Produce Trade and Commerce (Promotion & Facilitation) Act; and the Essential Commodities (Amendment) Act.

"We are of the view that the constitution of a committee of experts in the field of agriculture to negotiate between the farmers' bodies and the Government of India may create a congenial atmosphere and improve the trust and confidence of the farmers... a stay of implementation of all the three farm laws for the present may assuage the hurt feelings of the farmers and encourage them to come to the negotiating table with confidence and good faith," the 11-page order by the three-judge bench read. The court's order comes a day after pulling up the Centre for its poor handling of the farmers' agitation.

The bench also said that while the court doesn't want to stifle a peaceful protest, "the extraordinary order of stay of implementation of the farm laws will be perceived as an achievement" and will encourage the agitating farmers to end their protest. Unlike on Monday, the Centre represented by Attorney General K K Venugopal and Solicitor General Tushar Mehta did not oppose the staying of the laws or formation of a committee.

The SC rejected the submission by advocate M L Sharma, one of the petitioners questioning the laws, that the farmers are unwilling to appear before the panel. "If you want to agitate indefinitely, you can. Every person who is genuinely interested in solving the problem is expected to go before the committee. The committee will not punish you or pass any orders. It will submit a report to us," it said.

The bench said it will protect farmers' land only if they participate in the proceedings before the panel. "We are concerned about the validity of the laws and also about protecting the life and property of citizens affected by protests," it said.

The bench turned down the farmers' demand that the Prime Minister should approach them to hold negotiations and said, "We cannot ask the Prime Minister... he is not a party here."

The bench was surprised to learn that none of the three senior counsel appeared for the farmer unions on Tuesday. P9

View: Votary of legalising MSP; on contract farming; feels it's not govt's job to buy/sell produce; market should determine prices

Who: Ashok Gulati is an agricultural economist and former chairman of the Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices
View: Supports farm reforms. Has urged govt to address concerns on contract farming and assurance that MSP and APMC systems will continue

Who: Anil Ghanwat is the president of Shetkari Sanghatana, a Maharashtra-based organisation founded by Sharad Joshi
View: Has sided with the government but agrees it did not hold proper discussions with farmers' organisations before bringing the laws

Unions to stay away, see govt ploy

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

TERMING the four-member expert committee set up by the Supreme Court on Tuesday as pro-government and pro-agri reform laws, farmer leaders refused to appear before it and decided to continue their protests.

The decisions were taken at a meeting of the Samyukt Kisan Morcha, an umbrella body of around 40 protesting farmer unions, following the SC order.

Balbir Singh Rajewal, president of the Bharatiya Kisan Union, Punjab (Rajewal) said, "The committee members are pro-government and thus not dependable. We never asked the court to form a committee; the government is behind all this." Calling it a government ploy, Rajewal said, "our only demand is repealing the farm laws."

He, however, said the farmer unions will attend the ninth round of talks with the government on January 15 "as we do not want to give them any excuse". He also assured that the proposed tractor march on January 26 will be peaceful.

The All-India Kisan Sangharsh Coordination Committee said: "We had already said that we will not accept any committee formed by the SC for mediation."

City gets ₹90 crore for roads, water projects

Bengaluru: Despite the Covid crisis impacting the state's finances, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa on Tuesday announced Rs 90 crore for Bengaluru's infrastructure -- Rs 25 crore for water related projects, and Rs 65 crore for roads. Releasing the tranche for water projects, he said the remaining amount will be released in 4-5 days. He was speaking on the sidelines of the inauguration of Bengaluru City zilla panchayat main entrance arch, after which he held a meeting with ministers and officials reviewing works in the city. After the meeting, the CM said that most of the sanctioned amount was utilised by officials to "construct buildings" instead of taking up developmental works. He said 2,215 projects were incomplete. Of the 736 tanks to be constructed, 69 are pending, he said, and directed officials to complete them at the earliest. Revenue Minister R Ashoka said that senior citizens in panchayat limits, who are not getting pensions, must be identified and their bank accounts linked to their PAN.

SSLC exam syllabus out tomorrow

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

PRIMARY and Secondary Education Minister S Suresh Kumar on Tuesday said that the blueprint for SSLC exam syllabus for learning and assessment will be published in two days.

He was talking to reporters after visiting students at various higher primary schools, high schools and undergraduate colleges in Chamarajanagar.

Chapters for syllabus for teaching, learning and evaluation have already been identified and will be published soon and a comprehensive handbook on these topics will be provided to all schools, he added.

Textbooks prepared according to the number of school days available have already been delivered to students, he said.

Since it is difficult to teach the complete content of textbooks, the department has decided not to consider some of the chapters for evaluation for the 2020-21 academic year.

He visited schools to instill confidence in children and parents. After schools reopened on January 1, the minister said he visited 150-170 school and PU colleges to obtain the opinion of children so that the government could work towards students' best interest in terms of tests, safety, and texts.

This week, Kumar visited various schools in Mumbai-Karnataka, including Hunagunda and Savalagi in Bagalkote districts.

With parents demanding the resumption of other classes, the minister said that the opinion of the Technical Advisory Committee has been sought.

Pilot wows crowd with Kannada announcement

It was a smooth flight. I made the Captain's announcement, first in Kannada and then in Hindi and English

C V Madhu, Flight commander

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

AFTER traversing 15,553 km, the first non-stop flight from Benglauru to the United States, one of the longest journeys, reached San Francisco International Airport on Tuesday, well before schedule. The 15-hour, 14-minute journey did not take the North Pole route as was done when the Boeing 777-237 arrived at Bengaluru on Monday, but flew over the Pacific Ocean.

AI 175 left Kempegowda International Airport at 3.09 pm, after a 39-minute delay due to secondary security checks at the boarding gate, in line with rules laid down by the US government. The flight, with 220 passengers reached at 4.55 pm (6.25 am Indian time) on Tuesday. It was expected to take 16.5 hours, a senior Air India official said.

Flight Commander C V Madhu told TNIE from San Francisco, "It was a smooth flight. I made the Captain's announcement, first in Kannada and then in Hindi and English. I welcomed the passengers and told them the flight was a historic one, spoke of the weather outside, and ended with Jai Hind, and then Jai Karnataka. The Kannada announcement left passengers in surprise."

A few passengers waited for him to emerge from the cockpit after landing, to appreciate his gesture and thank him, he added.

The flight cruised at 900-1000km per hour, taking the Bangladesh, Myanmar, China, Japan, Pacific Ocean route.

13th January : When I mentioned Mercury yesterday, I forgot to say that it is has a supportive relationship with that wonderful sign, Libra, in the tropical zodiac. That's good news for Librans. And, if you know anyone born under this sector of the sky, listen carefully. Their gentle words will contain a great deal of wisdom - even when they don't know what they're talking about!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It's a romantic day, one when you'll be pursuing your highest ideals. The risky planetary situation is compounded by lunar influences which create confusion. One option you may wish to consider today is to turn down lively opportunities and go for peace and quiet.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Listen to experienced colleagues. Unless you follow cautious advice, you might find that plans or projects already in the pipeline may have to be abandoned because of others' lack of support and assistance. Still, it could be good for you to cut your reliance on partners.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The correct way for you to go at the moment is towards ethical actions and high standards. Be graceful if others offend you and be charitable if you see that they are in need of your help. You may be annoyed and irritated with them, but you still need to do your best.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
However much you would like to be the centre of attention, if you are a typical Cancerian you will find it very difficult to be truly selfish this week. Something keeps pulling you back to the need to put others' interests first. Just don't allow your goodwill to be taken for granted.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Mercury's position is still favourable, so what you are now told or discover could place an old situation in a new light. If at all possible, please do put extra energy into all professional aspirations. The time is coming for a change of job, or at least extra responsibilities.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The Moon is playing a fresh role in your relationships, stirring up your deepest needs, feelings and desires. What you have to do now is recognise that partners have rights, too. Or, in plain English, you'd better get on with other people - or else!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Nobody understands better than you that sometimes, like now, it is prudent to walk away from upsetting situations. You should also observe the old adage that it is best to be magnanimous in victory. If you begin to turn your attention to domestic repairs, then you'll save yourself time and effort next week.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Quite aside from the difficulties posed by planets influencing both domestic and professional sectors of your chart, others, influencing travel and adventure, are utterly favourable. Surprisingly, emotional complications may put you on the right track.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
As Venus moves from one set of relationships to another, a number of points may be cleared up. For a start, older friends are the best, especially where money is concerned. Team up with people who are more experienced than you. And don't be too proud to ask for help.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
No matter how hard you try to control your financial affairs, you always seem to end up somehow failing to maximise your profits. This is very much an all-or-nothing situation. Hopefully you've learnt well from recent lessons, and you're now a winner rather than a loser.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
I know that you may find it hard to believe, but something truly worthwhile will emerge from all the struggles you are going through. You can only go up if you've been down, first. Great things await! Plus, of course, you will soon be facing a profitable monetary choice.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Let others make the running. There is no need for you to dive in first if you feel that the waters of life are looking rather too risky. A Fish you may be, but you must still watch out for sharks. Above all, you now have to decide whether to face a deep emotional issue, or let sleeping dogs lie.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AS January 16, the day India is set to launch its Covid-19 immunisation programme, nears, the first consignment of vaccines arrived at Kempegowda International Airport in Bengaluru on Tuesday.

The consignment contained 6,47,500 doses of Covishield, the vaccine developed by Oxford University and manufactured for the Indian government by Pune-based Serum Institute of India. The consignment was taken to the old office of the state Department of Health and Family Welfare at Anand Rao Circle.

The Centre had allocated 7.95 lakh doses to Karnataka and the remainder will arrive on Wednesday and reach Belagavi.

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar said, "The Union government has purchased 1.1 crore doses at Rs 210 per dose from the Serum Institute of India. This is the cheapest vaccine in the world. The Institute is supplying vaccines at a cost of Rs 231 crore. Each dose is 0.5ml and each vial contains 10 doses. Each vial contains 5ml and can cater to 10 people. The second dose is to be given 28 days after the first one. The vaccine will generate resistance in the body and is safe."

The Drugs Controller General of India granted emergency use approval for Covishield, and Bharat Biotech's Covaxin on January 3.

Sudhakar said that the vials would be marked 'Not for Sale' to prevent misuse. Beneficiaries would be kept under observation for about 30 minutes after receiving the shot to check for adverse reactions to the vaccine, he said.

As many as 6.3 lakh health workers across the state will be administered the vaccine in the first phase. In accordance with the Centre's directions, two dry runs were held in the state (January 2, January 8) to familiarise health staff with the process of administering vaccines and to check for gaps in procedure and logistics.

Karnataka to get 40K doses of Covaxin, 20K to arrive today

RANJANI MADHAVAN @Bengaluru

A day after Karnataka received the first consignment of the Covishield vaccine, the state is set to receive doses of Bharat Biotech's Covaxin.

Deputy Director for immunisation at the Department of Health and Family Welfare, Dr Rajani Nageshrao, told The New Indian Express, "We are expecting 40,000 doses of Covaxin, of which 20,000 will arrive on Wednesday. The Serum Institute (of India) has sent more (Covishield) vaccines and that will be used for now in Phase I, for health care workers and frontline workers."

COVAXIN
BHARAT BIOTECH

However, with the state set to have both vaccines, it is unclear which category of people will receive Covaxin. Managing Director of the National Health Mission, Arundhati Chandrashekar, said, "We are yet to decide which districts will receive how many doses of vaccines. The cost of vaccines for health care and frontline workers will be borne by the Union government, but the state government is yet to take a call on whether charges will be levied on vaccines when it is distributed for the general public."

Phase 3 clinical trials - which test for efficacy - of Covaxin are currently underway and the results are likely to be ready by March. Although both Covishield and Covaxin are two-dose vaccines, they are of different types and one must receive two doses of the same vaccine.

The list of health workers - both public and private - who have registered with the health department was finalised on Tuesday night. The government has identified 235 vaccination sites.

In BBMP and Bengaluru Urban limits, KC General Hospital, Sir CV Raman General Hospital, Jayanagar General Hospital, Victoria Hospital, St John's National Academy of Health Sciences, East Point College of Medical Sciences, Mallasandra Urban Primary Health Centre, Yelahanka Taluk Hospital, KR Puram Taluk Hospital, Anekal Taluk Hospital, and Kannuru Primary Health Centre, have been identified as vaccination sites but this may be subject to change, department officials said.

"More people will be vaccinated after four months as more vaccines would be manufactured by then. Staff are trained for safe handling and transportation of vaccines. There is no doubt about the efficiency of officials of the health department. Everything is being carried out as per rules. Two lakh staff have been trained to administer vaccines," said Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar.

Private hospitals wait for govt info on vaccination

IFFATH FATHIMA @Bengaluru

WITH the Covid-19 vaccines set to roll out on January 16, many private hospitals are still waiting for confirmation from the State government as to when they would get the vaccines and can start administering them. Hospitals have made the logistical arrangements and trained their staff for the vaccination programme.

According to Dr Prasanna HM, president, Private Hospital and Nursing Association (PHANA), private hospitals which have 100-plus beds will be vaccination sites, but will administer the vaccines to their own staff during the first phase. "Private hospitals will only vaccinate their own health staff who have registered. Following that, we will start vaccinating other healthcare workers referred by the government, and then the elderly population. All these hospitals have storage facility for vaccines. However, we are yet to receive communication as to when we would receive the vaccine."

Private hospital staff have also been trained by the State government. Two or three healthcare workers from each private hospital are trained via video conference, and they go on to train other staff.

At ColumbiaAsia Referral Hospital, Yeshwantpur, 750 beneficiaries have registered for vaccination and the hospital has set up three rooms -- waiting, observation and vaccination. "While administering the vaccine, we will have BBMP officials as supervisors, three data entry operators and two security guards. While it is not clear when private hospitals will get the vaccine, we are prepared. Eight of our vaccinators are trained. BBMP has informed us that healthcare workers will get a message on their phones on the vaccination date, and if they miss it, it cannot be administered the next day. Such issues need clarity," said Dr Ranvir Singh Saluja, chief of medical services.

Dr Jagadish Hiremath, medical director, Ace Multi-Speciality Hospital, said they are expecting some communication within a day or two. "We need to know if we have to go to a vaccination site or the vaccine will be delivered to hospital. We have trained staff and created observation rooms for staff members, but are not sure of the date," he said.

IN SOLIDARITY: STATE FARMERS PLAN TRACTOR RALLY ON R-DAY

Supporting agitation on New Delhi borders, says Kodihalli; SC order fails to appease ryots

ANUSHA RAVI @Bengaluru

STANDING in solidarity with thousands of farmers agitating on the borders of New Delhi against the Union government's farm bills, farmer unions in Karnataka too are mulling more strident protests.

Akin to the protest tractor rally called for by agitating farmers in New Delhi on Republic Day, farmer unions in Karnataka are thinking of a similar rally in Bengaluru on January 26. The observations made by the Supreme Court on Tuesday made little difference to farmer unions, that have decided to join hands with labour unions and pro-Dalit organisations, and call for a tractor rally against the new farm bills.

"Whether it is farmers of Punjab or Karnataka, the issue is the same. We are united in our opposition to the farm bills that the Union government has bulldozed through Parliament, and thrust upon us without consultations. We are finalising our call for a tractor rally towards Bengaluru on Republic Day, in solidarity with the protest call given by farmers agitating in the national capital," said Kodihalli Chandrasekhar, president, Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha and Hasiru Sene.

The farmer leader said that various organisations, including labour unions and student unions, will be part of the protest that hopes to see around 25,000 tractors participating in the rally. "Farmers from neighbouring taluks of Bengaluru will drive towards the city in the thousands, while a few groups of people from more distant districts will also start towards Bengaluru. This is our way of intensifying our opposition to the farm bills," Chandrasekhar said.

In December last year too, farmers' unions of Karnataka had participated in the nationwide bandh in protest against the farm bills. Pro-Kannada organisations, labour organisations and opposition parties had joined hands. While incidents of road blocking and agitations were reported from across the State, the bandh had received a mixed response.

This time around, Chandrasekhar said the rally and protest following it will be more powerful. Farmer unions in Karnataka have been agitating against the State government's amendments to the Land Reforms Act and APMC Act brought in in the form of an ordinance by the cabinet, before being tabled in the assembly.

NAGESH MEETS CM, LOBBIES TO RETAIN HIS MINISTRY

V VELAYUDHAM @Kolar

EXCISE Minister H Nagesh met Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa at his residence in Bengaluru on Tuesday morning, and briefed about his role in the formation of the BJP government in the State.

Sources said that Nagesh, who is also Kolar district incharge minister, reportedly told Yediyurappa that he was the first minister to resign from the Congress-JDS coalition government to support the BJP, and it was after he took the lead that other ministers followed suit.

Nagesh also highlighted the development works he has taken up in Kolar district, the work he has taken up under the excise department and the increase in revenue of the department.

According to sources, following a report from a section of the media that Nagesh is likely to be dropped from the ministry to give way for other aspirants, the Dalit Sangharsha United Forum took out a torchlight procession in Kolar, demanding that the BJP high command and CM Yediyurappa retain him in the ministry, as he had supported the BJP in forming the government.

Katti: May become minister today, if BJP decides

Belagavi: "I will become a minister tomorrow if the BJP leadership makes up its mind," MLA Umesh Katti said at Belagavi airport on Tuesday. He left for Bengaluru after receiving an invitation from Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa ahead of the cabinet expansion on Wednesday. He said the chief minister called and asked him to rush to Bengaluru by Tuesday evening. However, Katti said he was not clear whether he would be included in the cabinet but added that his experience of more than 13 years as a cabinet minister in various governments would help him serve the state better, if he was inducted into the ministry. ENS

Names of Limbavali and Angara do the rounds

SULLIA MLA S Angara is likely to get in, while the names of former minister Aravind Limbavali and Halappa Achar too were doing the rounds.

BJP sources said Munirathna's name had not been cleared till late Tuesday night. Munirathna, who went to the chief minister's office in the afternoon, was seen there late in the night.

Sources said one cabinet post could be kept vacant ahead of the bypoll to Maski Assembly constituency. It was said that Excise Minister H Nagesh could be dropped. But he is said to have met the chief minister and put in a request to retain him.

Sources said the party was not keen on including Katti and Nirani in the cabinet, but Yediyurappa convinced the party high command that they should be on board. Eight-time MLA Umesh Katti on Tuesday said that he has the experience of being a minister for 13 years which will help him serve the state better if he is included in the cabinet. Sources said the inclusion of Katti, who hails from Belagavi, is important because of the upcoming LS bypolls there.

This will be the third expansion since Yediyurappa took over as CM in July 2019. In August 2019, 17 ministers were inducted, while in February 2020, ten newcomers to the BJP.

Speculation over cabinet expansion started after R Shankar and MTB Nagaraj were elected as MLCs in June last year and the CM too visited Delhi to get approval from the party high command for a cabinet reshuffle or expansion. The delay in getting the approval had triggered speculation that there could be a leadership change.

CBI questions Shivakumar in disproportionate assets case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president D K Shivakumar on Tuesday appeared before the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) officers in Bengaluru for questioning in a disproportionate assets (DA) case. Sources said he was questioned for over two hours.

Shivakumar appeared before the CBI officials at the agency's office in Bengaluru around 12 noon and left the office at around 2.30 pm, sources said. He was summoned by the agency to provide details in the DA case and he is said to have given them the details.

This is the second time he has been questioned in this case. In November 2020, the agency officials had questioned him for over an hour at its office.

The CBI had conducted raids at 14 locations — nine in Karnataka, four in Delhi and one in Mumbai — which were allegedly linked to Shivakumar and his brother and Congress MP D K Suresh — and had allegedly recovered around Rs 57 lakh cash during the searches.

The Congress leader, however, had contested the agency's claim on the amount recovered from his residence.

After the raids, senior Congress leaders had accused the central government of misusing the central agencies to target political opponents, and called it vendetta politics against Shivakumar. The BJP, however, had rubbished the charge stating that the agency was only doing its work.

Shivakumar is facing a slew of cases by the Income Tax Department and the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) in connection with disproportionate assets.

Spl Investment Regions planned for development

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Kalaburagi

THE state government has proposed to establish Special Investment Regions (SIRs) for Kalaburagi, Dharwad and Shivamogga for focussed industrial development, said Minister for Medium and Large-scale Industries Jagadish Shettar here on Tuesday.

Speaking to the media, Shettar said as the Central Government did not permit an SEZ in Kalaburagi district, it was proposed to establish SIRs for these three districts on the lines of Gujarat model.

He said instructions had been given to the officials to prepare a draft bill for SIR and it would be placed in the legislature session in April. "Once SIRs are established, investors would get many facilities including subsidy," he said.

Shettar said industrial development was currently Bengaluru-centric and they wanted to distribute industries across the State by taking them to Tier-2 and Tier-3 cities.

He said that after the road show in Hyderabad a year ago to attract investments, many investors had shown interest to invest in Karnataka. In the last one year, 60 projects of pharmaceutical industries have been cleared in the State. The government has proposed to conduct more road shows in different cities, he added.

Answering a question, Shettar said that he has requested the Chief Minister to provide more grants to the Industry department for developing critical infrastructure. The activities in the industrial sector have commenced as the skilled workers from different states have started coming back to Karnataka, he said.

Shettar met many people from different walks of life on Monday evening and Tuesday morning, who have requested him to convince the Chief Minister to include a person from the region in the cabinet. "It is the prerogative of the CM to induct or drop anybody from the cabinet," he said.

They have also expressed their displeasure over the neglect of the district. Shettar said that he has conveyed the feelings of the people of Kalaburagi district to the Chief Minister.

Asked about the prospects of a ticket for his daughter-in-law Shraddha, who is daughter of late Union minister Suresh Angadi, for the byelections to the Belagavi Lok Sabha constituency, Shettar said that the family members of Angadi and a few others were trying their best in this regard. But the party in all probability will announce the candidate only after the announcement of the calendar of events for the election, he said.

HC orders notice to state government on cow bill

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday ordered notice to the State Government on a PIL questioning the Karnataka Prevention of Slaughter and Preservation of Cattle Ordinance, 2021.

Issuing notice, a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum said the petitioner "invited our attention to Section 5 of the impugned ordinance". In the absence of rules, a farmer who takes cattle from one village to another will be prosecuted in view of Section 12(2) of the Act, and can be arrested under Section 13, the bench said, seeking response from the government.

AG Prabhuling K Navadgi submitted that the government is in the process of framing rules, and sought time to address the issues. The matter was adjourned to January 18. The plea filed by RTI activist Mohammed Arif Jameel.

The petitioner had contended that some provisions are in violation of the Right to Livelihood under Article 21 of the Constitution, the right to carry on trade or business, and amounts to infringement of fundamental right guaranteed by the Constitution. The ordinance prevents citizens from consuming beef, which is an integral part of their culture and violates Article 29, he argued. An absolute ban directly affects butchers and their trade. Therefore, the ordinance be quashed, he prayed. The petitioner stated that the 'search and seizure' provision gives power to anyone higher than the rank of sub-inspector the right to search based on suspicion and is a means to criminalise Muslims, Dalits and other minorities.

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday issued a notice to the Ministry of Law and Justice on a public interest litigation filed by three senior journalists and a senior advocate, questioning the constitutional validity of Section 2(c)(i) of the Contempt of Court Act, 1971, and the chilling effect it has on the freedom of speech, in particular.

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum issued the notice after hearing the petition filed by senior journalists Krishna Prasad, N Ram, Arun Shourie and advocate Prashant Bhushan.

The petitioners contended that the impugned sub-section is unconstitutional as it is incompatible with preamble values and basic features of the Constitution. It violates Article 19(1)(a), is unconstitutionally and incurably vague, and is manifestly arbitrary, they stated.

Section 2(c)(i): 'criminal contempt' means the publication (whether by words, spoken or written, or by signs, or by visible representations, or otherwise) of any matter or the doing of any other act which scandalises or tends to scandalise, or lowers or tends to lower the authority of any court.

Pointing out the absence of guidelines to control discretion and foster certainty in the application of criminal contempt, the petitioners expressed concern over two issues and sought the court to address them. First, judges may often be seen to be acting in their own cause, violating the principles of natural justice and adversely affecting public confidence they seek to preserve. The second is the bench taking suo motu action on behalf of the court as a whole and initiates it without concurrence of the full court.

It is essential that in respect of Section 2(c) as a whole (that is, including 2(c)(ii) and 2(c)(iii) whose constitutional validity has not been challenged), guidelines and rules must be framed to avoid violation of principles of natural justice, as well as arbitrary exercise of power by individual judges, the petitioners pleaded. They contended the sub-section fails the test of manifest arbitrariness laid down by the SC and fails to meet the test of proportionality

Court restrains producer from releasing series on Veerappan

Veerappan's wife Muthulakshmi

If the series is released, Muthulakshmi and her family would be deprived of leading a respectful and dignified life in society

H V Praveen Gowda, Muthulakshmi's advocate

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A CIVIL and sessions court has passed an ex-parte interim stay order, restraining AMR Pictures and filmmaker-producer AMR Ramesh from exhibiting, screening or releasing a series by the name 'Veerappan-Hunger for Killing' or any other name, portraying the life of Muthulakshmi and her husband and forest brigand Veerappan.

As per the order passed on Friday, the producer cannot "exploit" the name of Muthulakshmi and Veerappan by releasing a movie or series in any language on any platform, including YouTube or OTT.

Addressing the media on Tuesday, Muthulakshmi's advocate H V Praveen Gowda said that the order was passed in response to a suit filed by her.

He said the release of a series or movie in that particular name is in violation of Article 21 of the Constitution (Rights to privacy), as it is not based on police records and information available in public domain.

"If the series is released, Muthulakshmi and her family will not be able to come out of stigma and it would keep haunting them for generations and they would be deprived of leading a respectful and dignified life in society," the advocate said about the web series already launched by AMR Pictures.

Nearly 50 birds were found dead on the outskirts of Dambal village in Gadag district on Tuesday. Officials of the Forest Department who visited the spot, collected the carcasses and sent samples to test for bird flu.

Aditya Alva, Viren Khanna nucleus of B'luru's high-end drug parties: Pant

'Police didn't give a long rope to Alva; We opposed his bail plea before the Supreme Court'

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

Aditya Alva (in grey jacket), who was absconding for the last four months, being escorted by CCB officers in Bengaluru on Tuesday | SHRIRAM BN

ADITYA Alva, the drug accused and son of former JDS minister late Jeevaraj Alva, was arrested by the Central Crime Branch, Bengaluru City Police, from a resort in Chennai on Monday night after a four-month-long chase. He was brought to Bengaluru on Tuesday morning.

"Alva's arrest is an important development in the case. He and event manager Viren Khanna were the nucleus of City's high-end drug parties," said Police Commissioner Kamal Pant. Speaking to TNIE soon after the arrest, he said the CCB had been hunting for him since September, when he had fled the city.

"Aditya Alva has a vast and powerful network of people, but we got him finally. The CCB was following him closely and had covered his trail in Mumbai, Delhi, Gurugram and Mangaluru. They had searched his brother-in-law and Bollywood actor Vivek Oberoi's house in Mumbai. They had even sought information on him at the international border and were told that he had not fled the country. We had issued a lookout notice for him," he said.

On Alva's role in the drugs case in which the CCB had arrested Sandalwood actors Ragini Dwivedi and Sanjannaa Galrani, along with Khanna and others, Pant said, " he was a big player. He and Khanna were promoting drugs in the city."

Asked if the recent drugs haul by the police had any connection with the Cottonpet FIR case, Pant said that was a different one. "We cannot compare this (Cottonpet drugs) case with the huge marijuana and other narcotic drugs seizure by the police. That is also an unprecedented seizure and is an ongoing exercise. In this case, Alva and Khanna were involved in arranging high-end drug parties in hotels, pubs and bars and at the former's ancestral property – 'House of Life' – in Hebbal," he added.

Asked about the international links and the presence of foreigners in these 'elite' drug parties, Pant said the CCB has shared relevant details with other sister agencies. "Our focus is on checking the drug menace in Bengaluru," he added.

Pant denied the allegation that the city police gave Alva a long rope, while they arrested the others. He said if that was the case, the police would not have countered his bail application in the Supreme Court. "The allegations are cynical. We came to know that Alva had filed his bail application in the Supreme Court. We immediately took the government's permission to hire the Solicitor General. The next day, Alva's bail application was rejected after we put a caveat. Often, law enforcement agencies encounter operational difficulties. That doesn't mean that we are not doing our job," he said.

The Commissioner said that at no stage was there any interference in the case.

Last week the CCB had questioned Sandalwood producer Shivaprakash Chippi, who is accused number one in the Cottonpet NDPS case.

Accused hid in Chennai

ADITYA Alva has been named accused number six and the FIR lists various provisions of the NDPS Act and IPC. The police teams had launched a manhunt to nab him and had also issued a lookout circular.

Joint Commissioner of Police (Crime) Sandeep Patil said, "We got information of his whereabouts and arrested him in Chennai."

CCB sources said that a team led by Police Inspector Puneeth Kumar had gathered credible information that Alva was staying at a homestay on the outskirts of South Chennai. The team rushed to Chennai and took him into custody. He was brought to Bengaluru on Tuesday morning and was produced before the Special Court for NDPS cases in the evening. The court has remanded him in police custody for seven days.

A preliminary inquiry revealed that Alva frequently changed places to evade arrest and was staying at hotels in Chennai and Hyderabad. "He had stayed earlier too in the homestay from where he was picked up. He is being questioned about his network with drug peddlers and he is yet to open up," an official said.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS SAGAR MAN'S DEATH IN KUWAIT

Shivamogga: Hasam Fareed Sab, a 28-year-old man from Sagar in Shivamogga district, was found dead under mysterious circumstances in Kuwait. The victim's family alleges there were blood stains on his bed, but the Kuwait Police maintains that he committed suicide by jumping into the sea, where his body was found. Shakeel Ahmed, a relative of Fareed, told reporters on Tuesday that the latter worked for a food delivery company in the Gulf country. On December 27, his family tried to contact Fareed, but were told by his colleague that he had committed suicide. They then called their friends in Kuwait, who visited Fareed's room and reportedly found his bed covered in blood stains. "Hence, our family suspects that Fareed was murdered," Ahmed said. A memorandum has been sent to the Shivamogga DC and Sagar AC to be forwarded to the Centre, urging it to prevail upon Kuwait to probe Fareed's death. They, however, claimed that the government is yet to help. DC K B Sivakumar, meanwhile, said the memorandum has been sent to the MHA.

NIA chargesheets doctor for sedition

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE National Investigation Agency has chargesheeted Bengaluru ophthalmologist Dr Abdur Rahman for sedition, criminal conspiracy and waging war against the government.

The chargesheet has been filed under various sections of the IPC and UAPA. In the chargesheet submitted before the special court in New Delhi, the NIA has stated that Rahman was "furthering the ideology and activities of proscribed terrorist organisation ISIS/Islamic State of Syria and Khorasan Province (ISKP) in connivance with co-accused Jahanzaib Sami Wani and others for committing subversive/anti-national activities."

The NIA arrested Rahman (28), the son of a reputed ophthalmologist in Bengaluru, on August 17. On September 2, it filed a chargesheet against five accused -- Jahanzaib Sami and Hina Bashir Beigh from Srinagar, Abdullah Basith from Hyderabad, Sadiya Anwar Shaikh and Nabeel Siddick Khatri from Pune -- under various sections of IPC for criminal conspiracy, sedition, promoting enmity between groups on grounds of religion and disappearance of evidence, and also under UAPA Sections. "Rahman was radicalised, while listening to the online lectures of hardline Islamic preachers including Anwar Awlaki," the NIA has stated.

He had travelled to Syria in December 2013, and participated in terrorist activities of ISIS.

"On his return to India, he utilised his knowledge of ophthalmic lasers and medical science and tried to develop applications for medical and military requirements of the banned terrorist organisation. He was in regular touch with ISIS terrorists located abroad as well as in India, including Sami, on a secure messaging platform Threema," the NIA has stated.

COVISHIELD REACHES TAMIL NADU, ANDHRA, TELANGANA, ODISHA

This is a historic day for modern medicine: TS health officer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

Officials receive Covishield vaccine packages that arrived in in Hyderabad on Tuesday | S SENBAGAPANDIYAN

GEARING up for the most crucial vaccination drive till date in the country, Serum Institute of India (SII)'s Covid-19 vaccine — Covishield — left Pune on Tuesday morning for 13 cities including Bengaluru, Chennai, Hyderabad, Vijayawada, Bhubaneswar and New Delhi. The nationwide inoculation drive will be held on January 16.

Tamil Nadu received 5,36,500 vaccine doses on Tuesday. Distribution to district centres have also commenced. The Chennai regional vaccine store (RVS) received 1.18 lakh doses for distribution to five district vaccine stores. Speaking to reporters, Health Secretary J Radhakrishnan said, "Tamil Nadu was allotted 33 lakh syringes and needles, and we have already distributed 28 lakh syringes. The cold chain equipment will be monitored 24x7, and the State has the infrastructure in place to maintain the optimum temperature to preserve the vaccines."

The first batch of Covishield arrived in Hyderabad on Tuesday morning. The consignment was 3.64 lakh doses of Oxord-Asrazeneca's vaccine of SII. The vaccine will be first administered to healthcare workers . The vaccine, upon its arrival, was sent to the State Vaccine Centre's walk-in coolers to be stored before transporting them further to the actual centres where they would be used.

"This is a historic day for modern medicine as in a record time of 10 months a vaccine is ready. We thank the researchers and scientists who worked on this," said Dr G S Rao, Director of Public Health of Telangana. "We are very proud and happy to receive the vaccine from Bharat Biotech as this was made on Telangana soil. Both the vaccines will be administered to healthcare workers in Telangana," said Dr Rao.

Andhra Pradesh received its first consignment of a the coronavirus vaccine on Tuesday. The vaccine vials were received in the presence of Krishna district collector A Md Imtiaz at Gannavaram airport near Vijayawada.

As many as 3.7 lakh health workers —including Integrated Child Development Services (ICDS) staffers — are set to be inoculated in the state in the first phase. Later, the process will be followed for nine lakh frontline workers such as state and Central government employees, armed forces personnel, home guards, prison staff, disaster management volunteers, civil defence staff, municipal workers and revenue employees. Later, 90 lakh people above the age of 50 years and with comorbidities will be inoculated.

Odisha was one of the listed states that received the first consignment of Covishield on Tuesday.

A consignment consisting of 34 boxes weighing over 1,200 kg of Covishield vaccine arrived at the Biju Patnaik International Airport from Pune via New Delhi, a senior official said.

"The state has been allotted 4.08 lakh doses of Covishield and 20,000 doses of Covaxin will soon reach in the next phase. While the health workers including doctors, nurses and paramedical staff will be administered vaccines in the first phase, the front line workers like police, para-military and Disaster Management personnel and Revenue Department officials will be vaccinated in the second phase," said P K Mohapatra, additional chief secretary, Health and Family Welfare.

Kerala to get vaccine today

The first batch of Covid-19 vaccines will arrive in Kerala on Wednesday. The first consignment of the 4,33,500 doses will arrive at Nedumbassery airport by late afternoon. Another consignment of the vaccine is expected to arrive at Thiruvananthapuram airport in the evening. According to Kerala Health Minister K K Shailaja, Kerala's consignment will arrive from Chennai, which is one of the four national regions earmarked for the distribution of vaccines.

"The consignment of Covishield vaccine developed by the Serum Institute of India will be taken to the three regional centres at Kozhikode, Ernakulam and Thiruvananthapuram from the airports," she said. According to her, Thiruvananthapuram will get 1,34,000 doses, Ernakulam 1,80,000 and Kozhikode 1,19,500 doses of vaccine.

Villagers panic after 50 birds found dead

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @Gadag

NEARLY 50 birds were found dead on the outskirts of Dambal village in Gadag district on Tuesday. Forest department officials visited the spot, collected the carcasses and sent samples for testing.

The birds were found dead near a farm in Dambal village. According to primary reports, the dead birds were red vented bulbul and white rumped munias. People residing in the vicinity of Dambal village in Mundargi taluk panicked after hearing the news of dead birds as there have been cases of bird flu in some parts of the country.

After the news spread like wildfire, hundreds of people from Dambal, Doni and other villages thronged the site to catch a glimpse of the dead birds. Forest department officials asked the villagers not to venture too close to the dead birds as they had sprayed an anti-microbial solution in the farm and nearby IB campus.

Shashi Koppad, a villager said, "We were working in the fields and one of our workers saw the birds and called farmers from other fields. We are worried as cases of the bird flu are being reported in the last few weeks. As it is, people have stopped going near poultry farms. This incident has only increased the fear among us."

"The carcasses have been sent to a Bengaluru laboratory for testing. There is no reason for people to panic at this stage. They may have been poisoned by someone or the birds may have consumed something poisonous in nature. We shall investigate the matter thoroughly, even as we wait for the test results," said a Gadag division forester.

Swami Harshananda was a mechanical engineer from the University Visvesvaraya College of Engineering, and joined the Ramakrishna Mission in 1954 where his guru was Swami Virajananda, the sixth president of the Bengaluru branch of Ramakrishna Mission. He worked in Bengaluru, Mysuru, Mangaluru, Allahabad and Belur Mutt in West Bengal (headquarters of the Ramakrishna Mission).

Contempt: Petitioner imposed ₹1L fine

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN THE HC

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday imposed a cost of ₹1 lakh on a petitioner for making scandalous allegations against the judiciary, in relation to a civil dispute about Vyasaraja Mutt (Sosale).

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum, which imposed the cost on V Gururaj, resident of Gavipuram extension in Bengaluru, said that the cost should be paid to the Karnataka State Legal Services Authority. The bench said the Authority should, in turn, use it for the rehabilitation of children who are forced to sell toys and others items at traffic signals.

"It is unfortunate that the petitioner has gone to the extent of alleging that all the judges who have practised in Karnataka will be influenced by the former CJI, who was judge of Karnataka High Court. Most of the judges will show veneration towards the undisputed intellect of former CJI," the bench noted.

The petitioner had requested the Chief Justice to post the matter before the judges from other than Karnataka Bar, saying that most of these judges would be influenced by the former Chief Justice of India (CJI), who hails from Karnataka.

Terming the allegations shocking, the bench said that the petitioner has sought a very peculiar writ of mandamus. "This is a classic case of scandalising this court. There are allegations made against the former CJI by naming him repeatedly in the petition. Such allegations tend to lower the authority of the court and will constitute interference in judicial proceedings," the bench observed.

On a memo filed by the petitioner's counsel seeking permission to retire from the case, the bench said that the allegations constitute criminal contempt under the Contempt of Courts Act.

The bench said, "We expect the petitioner to go before the single judge and withdraw his submission. If it is not done so, action of initiating contempt proceedings is always open."

BUDGETARY PROVISIONS NECESSARY TO TACKLE BALLOONING BAD LOANS

It's a testy beginning for the Indian banking sector. That bad loans are set to rise is a well-travelled fact, but the RBI now believes that its own assessment may not reflect the underlying gravity of the situation. This is concerning. In its latest Financial Stability Report, the central bank estimated that gross NPA ratio may touch 16.2% by September 2021, up from 9.7% in September 2020. But in view of the regulatory forbearances like the moratorium, the standstill on asset classification and restructuring, the reported bad loan data isn't conclusive and hence the RBI duly warned that its stress tests may not capture the ground reality and the projections were susceptible to change in a non-linear fashion.

Rising bad loans leave two troubling consequences. One, banks' profitability continues to suffer and two, it forces the government to infuse capital in state-run banks even if the nation's finances are choked. That's something the government wanted to do away with. So it pursued the massive bank clean-up exercise, infusing ₹3.56 lakh crore between FY16 and FY20, so that banks can stand on their own. Subsequently, it merged several PSBs in 2019, hoping that the combined balance sheet strength will allow them to raise capital from the market and lessen government burden. Going by this spirit, it made no allocation in the previous Budget, but Covid-19 forced the finance ministry to approve ₹20,000 crore capital infusion last September. This is sufficient for FY21, but what about next fiscal?

The good news is, as part of Covid-19 relief measures, the RBI allowed banks to provide for stressed assets from operating profits in a staggered manner stretching over the next couple of years. But should bad loans surge more than anticipated, PSBs cannot absorb credit losses and their low valuations make it difficult to tap capital markets. This was evident from the recent attempts, which saw rather limited investor interest. It means the government must continue supporting PSBs next fiscal as well and make allocations in the upcoming Budget.

TEMPLE ATTACKS IN AP A CAUSE FOR CONCERN

Attacks on temples, reminiscent of the Taliban's vandalism in Afghanistan, have of late shaken Andhra Pradesh. The most shocking of these was the beheading of a 400-year-old murti at the Ramatheertham temple. It was the second such high-profile attack after the burning of the chariot at Antarvedi in September last. These are not stray incidents. There is a pattern and a motive, for sure, which appear sinister. At this point, we can only speculate since the state police or the CBI, probing the Antarvedi incident, are yet to crack most of these cases.

As per records, there have been 15-20 serious incidents of temple desecration since September last and hundreds of temple theft cases over the years. The police and the government have definitely failed to anticipate them, let alone act with the urgency needed, until the Ramatheertham episode. Now, communal harmony committees and a special investigation team have been constituted. Would these suffice? Unlikely, even if the cases are solved, since a political battle is already on, with Chief Minister Jagan Mohan Reddy pointing fingers at the TDP and the latter accusing him of encouraging conversions in an overt reference to his Christian faith. The BJP has been more than eager to capitalise on the issue, with one of its leaders claiming that the choice before the people is between a Bible party (YSRC) and a Bhagavad Gita one (BJP) in the upcoming Tirupati by-election. This could well be an inflection point in state politics, one that doesn't bode well.

To prevent the state from turning into a communal cauldron and prove its sincerity, the government must explore long-term options including freeing temples from its control and ending induced conversions. Religious freedom is a fundamental right and it can't be selective, no matter what one's definition of secularism is. Its real meaning was eloquently voiced by Swami Vivekananda when he said: "The Christian is not to become a Hindu or a Buddhist, nor a Hindu or a Buddhist to become a Christian. But each must assimilate the spirit of the others and yet preserve his individuality and grow according to his own law of growth." This is our road to salvation.

The Centre will have to come up with a policy to incentivise the manufacture of low-cost devices to help less privileged students cope with the demands of online education

NEED TO ADDRESS DIGITAL DIVIDE IN BUDGET

UNION BUDGET 2021-22

AMIT BANDRE

A SURYA PRAKASH

Vice-Chairman, Executive Council, Nehru Memorial Museum & Library

Finally, after years of deliberation, the Centre rolled out the National Education Policy (NEP) in 2020, which, unlike other government plans and policies, appears to have a vision, a focus and a road map in terms of deliverables.

More importantly, it is an education plan that is rooted in our culture and heritage, and is in sync with modern India's reality, the global challenges that it faces and on what needs to be done to equip the younger generation to successfully meet those challenges.

However, in view of Covid-19 and the glaring disparities that it has thrown up among the digital haves and have-nots, some aspects of this policy pertaining to e-learning and virtual classrooms have to gain priority over others.

With school and college classes going online, students hailing from indigent families are at a terrible disadvantage since they do not have smartphones or laptops to cope with online education. Although Indians have over a billion mobile phones, it is estimated that over 80% of the student population was at a disadvantage because not all devices are "smart" enough to provide online connectivity to a classroom.

The NEP took note of the importance of online and digital education and said there has to be equitable use of technology and that new circumstances and realities require new initiatives. Since the policy was approved by the Union Cabinet in the midst of the raging Covid-19 crisis last July, it said that epidemics and pandemics necessitate alternative modes of education "whenever and wherever traditional and in-person modes of education are not possible". The policy therefore recognised the importance of leveraging the advantage of technology and said "carefully designed and appropriately scaled pilot studies" should be undertaken to determine the benefits of online and digital education. However, in view of the fact that the pandemic has spawned a new era of virtual classrooms, the government will have to scale up its response and go well beyond pilot projects.

The policy itself recognises the yawning gap between the rich and the poor in this regard. It says the benefits of online education cannot be leveraged "unless the digital divide is eliminated through concerted efforts, such as the Digital India campaign and the availability of affordable computing devices". It also concedes that it is important that the use of technology for online and digital education "adequately addresses concerns of equity".

Therefore, since the government is conscious of this gap and of how it will adversely impact the education of millions of children who are incapable of owning these devices because of their poor economic situation, it will have to come up with some out-of-the-box solution to tackle this problem.

Since the Union Budget is just a few weeks away, the Ministry of Education must canvass the idea of the Ministry of Finance coming up with a novel scheme to incentivise the purchase of laptops and smartphones by students. Of the two, smartphones are cheaper but are not advisable for long-term usage to connect with the virtual classroom because of the strain on the eyes.

The news from the market is that the demand for laptops has shot up, many children are sharing computer devices and purchase of these devices are on the priority list of parents across the country, despite issues regarding affordability. Many computer companies are also coming up with innovative financing models to push sales.

The NEP recognises that the benefits of online education cannot be leveraged unless the digital divide is eliminated and stresses on foundational literacy and inclusive education. ... The Budget will hopefully come up with a clutch of incentives and a policy that will hasten the achievement of these goals

However, the government will have to come up with a policy to incentivise the manufacture and purchase of low-cost devices, which will enable the less privileged students to cope with the demands of online education. One could think of student models of smartphones with larger screens and compatible with the needs of Zoom calls and multimedia activity. But this can never be a satisfactory substitute for a laptop that provides a physical keyboard and a bigger screen, essential for students to handle class assignments.

Several states have already taken the initiative to help poor students. As the pandemic disrupted regular classes, the Haryana government decided to distribute free tablets to all students from Class 8 to 12 in state-run schools. The students have to return the devices to the school when they pass out of Class 12. The education minister of Tamil Nadu has announced that the government proposes to distribute tablets to three lakh students from Classes 6 to 8 in government schools.

The Punjab government, on the other hand, decided to distribute smartphones to school students. Assam decided to give every meritorious student passing out of Class 10 with scores of 75% and above, ₹20,000, to enable them to buy a laptop.

The Union government could also come up with a scheme that would be jointly funded by the Centre and the states. It could also encourage investment of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) funds to provide these devices to needy children. The Karnataka High Court has, in fact, directed the state government to tap CSR funds to distribute laptops to students in government schools.

The NEP rightly emphasises on early childhood care and education and foundational literacy and numeracy, upgradation of teaching skills, equitable and inclusive education. It says "learning should be holistic, integrated, enjoyable and engaging". The Union Budget 2021 will hopefully come up with a clutch of incentives and a policy that will hasten the achievement of these goals.

NEW YEAR RINGS IN RECONCILIATION IN WEST ASIA

PINAK RANJAN CHAKRAVARTY

Former Ambassador, Ex-Secretary in MEA & currently a Visiting Fellow at ORF, Delhi

The Saudi Crown Prince Muhammad bin Salman greeting the Emir of Qatar, Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al Thani, upon the latter's arrival at the airport in Saudi Arabia heralded the new year. Arguably, it marks the beginning of a significant geopolitical step towards reconciliation among the Gulf Arab nations. It must have surprised many in the Arab world and may have caused some concern in Iran and Turkey, as both countries have taken advantage of dissensions among the Gulf Arab nations. Qatar, an estranged member of the six-country regional organisation, the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) founded in 1981, had been at loggerheads with Saudi Arabia, Bahrain and the UAE since 2017 over its policies that came into conflict with those of the three fellow Arab nations.

These policy differences related to ties with Iran, support for the Muslim Brotherhood, support to different factions in the ongoing civil war in Libya and Syria, and the editorial slant of the Qatar-owned Al Jazeera media group. The differences were serious enough for the three GCC countries and Egypt to cut off ties and blockade Qatar, which has a land border only with Saudi Arabia. The GCC convened its 41st Annual Summit on January 5 at Al-Ula in Saudi Arabia and the Qatari Emir was invited to attend, after reconciliation agreements were worked out behind the scenes. It was Kuwait that mediated in the dispute and announced that Saudi Arabia and Qatar had agreed to restore full diplomatic, land, air and sea links, which had been cutoff in June 2017. During the summit, the Gulf leaders signed a "solidarity and stability" agreement.

Ties between Qatar and the three GCC members went downhill after uprisings in Arab countries that began in Tunisia, the beginning of the so-called "Arab Spring". As these uprisings spread to other Arab countries, these wealthy GCC members aided and supported preferred local factions in Syria and Libya, while Qatar chose to support opposing factions, leading to charges against Doha of supporting terrorism. In Libya, for instance, Qatar, Italy and Turkey are supporting the UN-recognised Government of National Accord (GNA) that is locked in a civil war with General Khalifa Haftar's Libyan National Army (LNA), which has received support from Saudi Arabia, the UAE, Russia, France and Egypt. Gen Haftar had helped Col Muammar Gaddafi usurp power in 1969 and is reported to have joined hands with the CIA to overthrow Gaddafi in the 1990s.

Suspicions were also raised by Qatar's friendly relations with Iran, a major player in the regional power struggle with Saudi Arabia and her Gulf allies. In 2014, Saudi Arabia, the UAE and Bahrain recalled their ambassadors from Doha. Though the ambassadors returned to Doha after a few months, an insecure Qatar, with meagre military resources of its own, felt threatened by a far more powerful Saudi Arabia. It did what nations tend to do in such situations—it reached out to allies like the US, whose CENTCOM is based at the Al-Udeid air base in Qatar. It also reached out to Turkey, which has been spreading its wings in West Asia in its quest for influence and leadership of the Islamic world. Qatar permitted Turkey to open a military base and start training Qatari military and security forces. This led to a further deepening of the hostilities between Qatar and the three GCC nations, and ties plummeted.

In June 2017, Qatari ambassadors were expelled and an economic blockade was imposed. Immediate closure of the Turkish military base was one of the main demands. This led Qatar to start an ambitious expansion of its military and security forces. Bahrain has had several disputes with Qatar over their maritime boundary. Qatari Coast Guard ships have intercepted Bahraini ships and Doha has complained that Bahraini Air Force fighter aircraft have flown over her territorial waters. Qatar's oil and gas resources have made it the world's richest country in per capita income. Its wealth enabled it to beat the blockade and the deadlock had reached its expiry date, as it was going against the interest of all GCC countries. Pressure has also been building for joint action against the Covid pandemic and the need for economic measures to revive flagging economies.

In 2017, Qatari ambassadors were expelled and an economic blockade was imposed. ... This led Qatar to start an ambitious expansion of its military and security forces. Its oil and gas resources have made it the world's richest country in per capita income, which enabled it to beat the blockade

Clearly, there was strong US pressure to resolve the impasse and the presence of Jared Kushner, President Donald Trump's son-in-law and adviser, at the Al-Ula Summit confirms the American role. The priority of the US is to keep the GCC together and consolidate a common front against Iran. The reconciliation in the GCC is only the first step. There are simmering differences that will require sustained effort to resolve. Clearly, Saudi Arabia has taken the lead and MbS has attempted to play a statesman's role in the reconciliation effort.

As the sun sets on the Trump administration, the GCC has to reckon with Iran's growing nuclear and missile capabilities. The incoming Joe Biden administration in the US has indicated its preference for rejoining the Iran nuclear deal (JCPOA). Iran's announcement that it has resumed enriching uranium to 20% and its seizure of a South Korean tanker have not gone unnoticed. Clearly, Iran is raising the stakes and repositioning itself for negotiations with the incoming Biden administration. The Obama administration's support for the nuclear deal with Iran was deeply unpopular not only in Israel, but also in the Gulf countries. Iran and her military proxies in Lebanon, Iraq, Syria and Yemen are viewed as security threats by the GCC. The reconciliation is also a signal to the US that her GCC allies have their reservations about potential accommodation of Iran by the Biden administration.

Having nurtured good ties with all GCC countries, India will have cause to be satisfied with the reconciliation effort. India's energy ties with the GCC countries and the large Indian expatriate community in these nations are important bonds. Saudi Arabia and Qatar are important suppliers of oil and natural gas to India. Post-Covid economic recovery in the GCC nations will aid India's economic recovery as well, as these countries are major trading and investment partners as well as employment destinations for Indian workers. With the UAE, Bahrain and Morocco establishing full diplomatic ties with Israel, India will have reason to be satisfied, given the close security ties it has with Israel. Whether the reconciliation will help the Turkey-Pakistan axis will depend on how Qatar plays its cards. It is very likely that Qatar will attempt to balance its ties with the GCC and the Iran-Turkey axis.

One of the greatest Tests

Kudos to the Indian team for its brave performance in Sydney. It was one of the greatest matches in history. The team played well in the fourth innings in tough conditions away from home and held on to a draw though it lost most frontline batsmen with many overs left in the Test.

Venkatesh Subramanian, Bengaluru

Immense character

Despite being on the receiving end of sledging from the Australians and racial slurs from spectators in Sydney, along with various injuries to its players, the Indian team showed immense character to draw the Test.

Debosmita Bhattacharya, Bengaluru

Epic partnership

The epic unbroken partnership for the sixth wicket between R Ashwin and Hanuma Vihari lasted for 42.4 overs and helped India pull off a remarkable draw. Rishabh Pant and Cheteshwar Pujara, who scored 97 and 77 respectively in tough circumstances, also deserve rich accolades. Well done Team India.

Racism again

Racism again raised its ugly head, this time at the Sydney Cricket Ground. It is appalling this still happened even after a year when most of international cricket was lost due to the pandemic.

SC stay not right

The apex court's stay on the implementation of the farm laws is disturbing. The Supreme Court has to rule only on the constitutional validity of the laws. Instead, the court has stepped on legislative privilege.

B Kailash Shankar, Thiruvananthapuram

Absorbing piece

Two priests, a queen, a Pope and a book (Jan 12) was an absorbing article. Kudos to the author. One hopes that Thomman Kathanar's gem will find its rightful place in history. Incidentally, the exploits of the two priests have made this Keralite a few inches taller.

Accepting defeat

The article Is this what democracy has come to? (Jan 10) truly points out the relevance of accepting defeat with grace. In India, most parties have that dignity. A few blame the EVMs but there is mostly no attack on constitutional bodies. I hope that decorum continues in India.

Anula Singh, Bengaluru

Public servants, not rulers

In democracy. people are the masters and elected representatives, despite their power, their mere servants (Drop vindictive action in Kochi flyover fiasco, Jan 11). But the rulers often forget that they have to respect the common man.

Thomas K M, Muvattupuzha

Regular fire accidents

Fires at hospitals due to short circuits have been taking place regularly. "Strict action will be taken against the guilty" is the stock answer the authorities trot out after every tragedy, but they do little to avoid a recurrence. It's sad that human life has become so cheap in our country.

P G Menon, Chennai

Stricter quality control

Cursory inspections in hospitals, hotels, etc. will not help as the wiring is concealed and the quality of electrical hardware cannot be assessed from appearances. Stricter quality control is needed at the manufacturing stage.

Should not laws after SC stay now move to Parliament Standing Comm, Special Comm of parliamentarians where stakeholders from farm sector can be heard?

All members of SC panel backed new farm laws

Ashok Gulati, Pramod K Joshi, Bhupinder Singh Mann & Anil Ghanwat have spoken or written in support of agriculture laws in recent past

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday stayed the implementation of the three contentious agriculture laws and formed a four-member committee to find a solution to break the deadlock between the protesting farmers and the Centre.

However, all the four members — agricultural economist Ashok Gulati, former director of International Food Policy Institute Pramod K Joshi, Bhupinder Singh Mann of the BKU (Mann) and Anil Ghanwat of the Shetkari Sanghatan — are pro-reform and do not advocate the repeal of the laws in their entirety.

Gulati, a renowned agricultural economist, is an Infosys chair professor for agriculture at the India Council for Research on International Economic Relations. He was awarded the Padma Shri in 2015 and is a former head of the Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices. Recently, in an article, he had suggested to the government that giving in writing to the farmers that the MSP and APMC will continue and be strengthened would be a good option. He had also suggested to the Centre to assure the farmers on the contract farming clause that the contract would be on the produce, and not the land.

Mann, chairman of the All India Kisan Coordination Committee, is a former Rajya Sabha MP. He was one of the founder members of the AIKCC and has been a farm leader since the 1960s. In December last year, he was a part of the group that handed over a memorandum to the government asking it to implement the laws but with amendments. He had sought a written assurance on the MSP and also urged the government to ensure a level-playing field for farmers.

Ghanwat is the president of the Shetkari Sanghatana, an organisation founded by farmers' leader Sharad Joshi that has sided with the government during the farmer protests. In August, the organisation had submitted letters to PM Narendra Modi supporting the laws. The Ghanwat-led body also did not support the Bharat Bandh.

Joshi had served as a senior economist at the International Crops Research Institute for Semi-Arid Tropics and director of the National Academy of Agricultural Research Management and the National Centre for Agricultural Economics and Policy Research. He has been a strong supporter of legalising MSP. In a recent article, Joshi had said that the protests are "baffling as apprehensions of farmers are mostly misplaced".

'Khalistanis' infiltrated protest, Centre tells SC

NEW DELHI: The Supreme Court on Tuesday asked the Centre to file an affidavit after Attorney General K K Venugopal claimed that some banned organisations, including 'Khalistanis', have infiltrated the ongoing farmers' protest against the new farm laws at the borders of Delhi. Venugopal agreed to place Intelligence Bureau reports in support of his submission.

The bench made the remarks after senior advocate P S Narasimha, representing the Consortium of Indian Farmers Association supporting the farm laws, submitted that groups such as Sikhs for Justice are involved in the protest. "This kind of protest can be very dangerous", said Narasimha. The Chief Justice queried the A-G: "Will you confirm this?" To which, the A-G replied: "We have said that Khalistanis have infiltrated into the protests."

At this, the CJI further queried the A-G, asking: "Isn't it in your power to check the number of people and see if they are armed or not and if there is an infiltration by a banned organisation?"

Venugopal reiterated the government will bring on record the IB report on the aspect of infiltration. "If there is an infiltration by a banned organisation, and somebody is making an allegation here on record, you have to confirm it. You file an affidavit by tomorrow," Bobde told Venugopal.

The 11-page order also stated: "Laudably, the farmers have so far carried on the agitation peacefully and without any untoward incident. But it was pointed out in the course of hearing that a few persons who are not farmers have also joined, intending to show solidarity with the farmers." ENS

'Contract farming will pull farmers out of poverty'

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

ASSERTING that the root cause of farmers' poverty was the availability of limited markets, Shetkari Sanghatana president Anil Ghanwat, who is on the four-member panel set up by the SC, says the "new agri laws will open new avenues to farmers".

"Farmers will be able to see their produce in the open market as well as agriculture produce market committees. In Maharashtra, the farmers have been following this practice for the last 10 years. This should be replicated across India. If the produces are purchased at the farmers' doorsteps, it will help reduce the market management cost that's generally recovered from the farmers only," he told this newspaper.

Batting for open market, Ghanwat said contract with corporates will not only help the farmers get a good price for their produce but also plant advanced crops as per the market requirement. "Traditional farming is not giving enough yield or return. Once the farmers start sowing as per the market demand, they will get good money. It will pull them out of poverty," he said.

He would try and convince the farmers about the benefits of the new laws. "The Punjab and Haryana farmers feel income at APMC is assured and hence, do not want to follow a new path. They should see the farmers from Maharashtra, who're making tremendous progress in horticulture and open farming."

On the claim that the panel was pro-government, Ghanwat said he was "pro-farmers" and only wanted to protect their interest. "The panel has been constituted by the SC, not by any party," he said.

SC issues notice on Delhi Police's plea to stop 'tractor rally' on Republic Day

New Delhi: The Supreme Court issued notice on the Delhi Police's plea seeking to stop the farmers' tractor rally on Republic Day. The Centre had sought an injunction to restrain any vehicle protest march in Delhi on January 26. The right to protest is subject to countervailing public order or interest, it said. Attorney General K K Venugopal said there would be no question of huge group of 1 lakh people entering the city as it was not known where they would go. In response, the CJI said it was within the powers of the police to control that. The court will hear the matter on January 18.

Outcome of committee is preordained: Agri experts

NEW DELHI: While the Supreme Court has asked to set up a four-member committee to end the impasse, experts have said that the outcome of the panel is already preordained.

Agriculture economist Davinder Sharma said the decision to form the panel means "going back to square one".

"The Supreme Court has stayed the laws and set up the committee but the composition of the panel tells us that the outcome is pre-ordained. So we are back to square one," said Sharma.

Ajay Vir Jakhar, agriculture expert and chairman of the Bharat Krishak Samaj, took to Twitter to express his disappointment. "The SC-appointed members have stated positions which pre-meditate the outcomes of the committee. Lost opportunity," he wrote.

Before the SC's decision, Jakhar had tweeted: "Who will finally be the members of the SC appointed committee and will the mandate of the committee include the authority to recommend repealing of the laws? SC, please don't lose credibility by choosing the wrong members & wrong mandate."

Farmers' rights activist Ramandeep Singh Mann said: "The Supreme Court has formed a committee on the farm laws, which has Ashok Gulati in it. He is a known supporter. There is Bhupinder Singh Mann, this is all wrong. We don't accept them. We will not accept them. We will return only when the laws are repealed." ENS

Khattar & Chautala meet Shah, say BJP-JJP govt in Haryana 'strong'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi/Chandigarh

WITH the Centre's new farm laws threatening to rock the boat of the BJP-JJP alliance government in Haryana, Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Tuesday took stock of the political situation in the state at a meeting with CM Manohar Lal Khattar and his deputy Dushyant Chautala.

While the BJP leaders sought to downplay the threat to the alliance, Shah, who had scripted the alliance after the fractured state poll mandate, turned the focus on the law and order situation and security at the meeting.

"The government is strong and it will complete the full tenure. All aspects, including the stay by the Supreme Court and the formation of a committee of experts, were discussed with a focus on the preparations for the January 26 Republic Day celebrations," Khattar told reporters after the meeting. Chautala, who has a strong vote base among the Jat agrarian community, also said there was no threat to the alliance government in the state. Haryana BJP chief O P Dhankar also attended the meeting.

In the House of 90 legislators, the BJP has 40 and the JJP 10 MLAs. A few of the JJP MLAs are learnt to have told the deputy CM that the alliance government may have to pay a heavy cost if the laws aren't repealed. The Centre, incidentally, has stated on occasions that the laws will not be repealed.

The sentiment in Haryana is against the three farm laws and it will cost the ruling BJP-JJP alliance heavily in the coming days

Ram Kumar Gautam,
JJP MLA

The Centre should rollback these laws as farmers of Haryana, Punjab and the country are up in arms against the legislations, JJP MLA Jogi Ram Sihag. "We will request Dushyant ji to convey our feelings to Amit Shah ji," he said.

"I have nothing to do with the JJP (meeting)... Not going to Delhi... The sentiment in Haryana is against the laws and it will cost the ruling alliance heavily," JJP MLA Ram Kumar Gautam said.

States will get 165 million doses of Covid vaccines by tomorrow

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Centre announced that all 165 million doses of Covishield and Covaxin for which it signed purchase orders with Serum Institute of India and Bharat Biotech will reach the states by Thursday, two days before the actual inoculations begin.

Vaccinations will begin with healthcare workers followed by frontline workers in the first phase. Approximately 1 crore health care workers, approximately 2 crore front line workers and around 27 crore prioritized age groups will be covered in the first phase of vaccination.

"At many places in the world, more than one vaccine is being administered, but, presently, in no country, vaccine recipients have the option of choosing the shots," Union health secretary Rajesh Bhushan said to a query on whether there will be an option to choose from the two vaccines.

Both vaccines will be given in two doses 28 days apart even if the accelerated approvals given to the two companies have kept a flexibility of higher duration. "The inoculation effect takes 14 days to develop after the administration of the two dosages. Hence, it is imperative to maintain Covid appropriate behaviour before and after one gets vaccinated," said Bhushan.

First batch of Covishield vaccine reaches a storage facility in Kolkata on Tuesday | PTI

On Monday, SII and Bharat Biotech started dispatching consignments to regional stores across the country. Within Tuesday afternoon, about 54.72 lakh doses of vaccine reached the states. The Centre has procured Covishield and Covaxin at ₹200 and ₹295 per dose, excluding taxes, from the manufacturers. Covaxin was being purchased at a higher price because Bharat Biotech was also giving 16.5 lakh doses — out of 55 million doses for which the purchase deal was inked — free of cost and with that the total cost per dose came down to ₹206, Bhushan clarified.

V K Paul, member, health, Niti Aayog stressed that there should be no doubt about the safety of the vaccines, adding that the two vaccines were tested on thousands of people and the side effects are negligible. "There is no risk of any significance."

'ARMY TO HOLD GROUND AT LAC TILL NEEDED'

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

THE Army will hold on to its positions in eastern Ladakh — where it's in a standoff with China's People's Liberation Army (PLA) — till as long as required, General MM Naravane said on Tuesday.

While expressing the hope that an amicable solution can be reached through "dialogue and discussion", the Army chief said, "If talks are prolonged, so be it. We are prepared to hold our ground, where we are, for as long as needed to achieve our national goals." He was addressing the media on the eve of the Army Day.

On reports that China has moved troops further away from the border in depth areas, General Naravane said not much should be read into the move as there is no reduction in deployment of personnel at the frontline.. "Training areas have been vacated by China in depth areas which lie at a distance ranging between 500-1500 km from the border. No decrease of strength on either side on friction areas has taken place," he said.

The Army is maintaining a vigil on the entire northern border, the chief said, adding that there are friction points with China not just in eastern Ladakh but in other sectors, too. "No eyeballs-to-eyeballs deployment in eastern and central sector, but there are friction points. Rebalancing as per threat perception is carried out. Rebalancing to northern border was required and it has taken place."

Relations with China disturbed by bloodshed last year, says Jaishankar

When I look at the challenges we face, the US is going to be much more open looking for partners and I'm confident about where we are going with the ties

S Jaishankar,
EAM

NEW DELHI: External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar on Tuesday said the relationship between India and China has been profoundly disturbed by the bloody face-off along the LAC in June last year.

"After 45 years, you've had bloodshed on the border. And that's had a huge impact on public opinion and politically...really the impact on trust and confidence in India where China and their relationship is concerned. That has been profoundly disturbed," Jaishankar said referring to the violent skirmish at the Galwan Valley in which death 20 Indian soldiers had died.

The minister added that China was yet to offer an explanation for deploying a large number of troops along the LAC. "Now last year, for reasons which are not clear to us, the Chinese brought an enormous military force to one part of the border. And then at the LAC, obviously we moved up when we saw them coming," Jaishankar said.

On relations with the US, the minister said the ties were on an upward swing. ENS

Maha Speaker Patole leads race to replace Thorat

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA Assembly Speaker Nana Patole has emerged as the frontrunner in the race for Congress' state presidentship. Patole, along with Vijay Wadettiwar and Nitin Raut, is touted to be young blood the high command is considering to infuse purpose in the state unit, which is increasingly losing ground in Maharashtra.

The race began after Sonia Gandhi decided to address the party's waning fortunes, which coincides with an uptick in Nationalist Congress Party's standing (NCP), under the incumbent Balasahab Thorat. The Congress seeks stay in the reckoning for the upcoming municipal corporation elections by installing a younger leadership. Sonia Gandhi had deputed Maharashtra H K Patil to consult the elected representatives and prominent leaders, and submit a report.

While a majority of elected representatives back Thorat, Patole's proximity to Rahul Gandhi might see him through, highly-placed sources party said. Patole's aggressive style was noticed when he campaigned for Rahul in Wayanad in the last Lok Sabha election, and offered a spirited resistance to Nitin Gadkari during the 2019 hustings. "Patole is the first choice. High command, particularly Rahul Gandhi and general secretary K C Venugopal, are in favour of Patole, who is also an OBC," sources added. Vijay Wadettiwar, also an OBC leader, is a minister. Wadettiwar is known for aggressive style. If the high command insists on a Dalit face, sources said, Energy Minister Nitin Raut could emerge as a dark horse in the race.

Haryana's sex ratio at birth improves to 922 in six yrs

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

HARYANA government's proactive measures to tackling female infanticide protected the lives of 30,000 newborns, including 8,000 last year alone, in six years. The efforts have boosted its sex ratio (number of girls per 1,000 boys) at birth from a worrisome 871 in 2014 to 922 in 2020. Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar said his government aims to bring the ratio to 935 plus this year through a sustained fight against female foeticide.

Nodal Officer of the Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao Programme, Dr Rakesh Gupta, said that the majority of the districts with sex ratio of below 900 are now above the 920 plus mark. As of now, 20 out of 22 districts in the state have the sex ratio above 900. Gupta said that Sirsa with the sex ratio of 949 at birth is closing in on the 950 mark, which is considered the ideal sex ratio at birth.

Gupta said that 5,37,996 births were registered in 2020, including 2,79,869 female births. "The main objective of the state government is to ensure a visible decline in the incidence of female foeticide, which will result in better sex ratio. While Covid-19 pandemic severely hampered the efforts in 2020, the campaign gained momentum by August," he said.

Regular inspections at ultrasound centres, massive raids at illegal units under the PC-PNDT/MTP Act, strict action against offenders both in Haryana and neighbouring Punjab, Uttar Pradesh, and Rajasthan helped in containing illegal scans and foeticide, Gupta said.

MP's second hooch tragedy in three months claims 14 lives in Morena

In-charge district excise officer, three cops suspended; seven suspects booked for homicide

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

AT least 14 men died allegedly after consuming spurious liquor in Morena district of Madhya Pradesh on Monday and Tuesday. Of the 18 people admitted to various hospitals, the condition of three was critical. The deceased and the hospitalised people hail from Manpur Prithwi, Pahwali, and Chherna villages under Bagchini and Sumaoli police station limits of Morena district.

The deceased, aged between 25 and 55 years, come from economically weaker sections. Among the 12 dead were two brothers and their uncle.

A relative of one of the deceased men alleged that manufacture and sale of illicit liquor have been going on unchecked in Manpur Prithwi and adjoining villages owing to a nexus between Bagchini police station and the local liquor makers-suppliers.

"I can name the men – Giriraj, Pappu Pandit, Raju, Ramvir Rathore and their kin – involved in the making and sale of illicit liquor with the help of Bagchini police station officials. After making the illicit liquor near Manpur village, they supply it in vehicles to small shops in villages," a relative of a deceased alleged.

People surrounding the bodies of the people, who died after consuming suspected spurious liquor in Morena district on Tuesday | PTI

Sources said that while the three villages are located around 20-25 km away from each other, the men from both villages consume liquor supplied by common couriers.

Meanwhile, the state government suspended Morena district excise officer (in-charge) Javed Ahmad, Bagchini police station in-charge Arvind Rathore, a sub inspector, and constable for dereliction of duty. Based on the primary probe, seven persons have been booked under various sections of the IPC and Excise Act, Inspector General of Police (IG-Chambal Range) Manoj Sharma told TNIE on Tuesday. "Two-three men have already been rounded up, and a search is underway for the remaining accused," Sharma added,

This is the second spurious liquor tragedy in Madhya Pradesh within three months. In October 2020, 16 beggars and daily wage labourers had died after consuming pouches of poisonous liquor in Ujjain.

"Probe is underway, but prima facie, the in-charge district excise officer has been suspended for laxity in supervision. Whoever else is found wanting would not be spared," Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan said.

Blaming the state government for second hooch tragedy within three months, ex-chief minister and Leader of Opposition Kamal Nath said, "It was 16 deaths in Ujjain and 12 so far in Morena. This speaks volumes about how the mafia is ruling the roost despite tall claims of the government about anti-mafia drive." Taking a dig at Chouhan, the state Congress chief tweeted: "this unfortunate incident exposes that all claims gaad doonga, taang doonga, latka doonga (will bury them and hang them) made by the CM about action against mafia elements are mere show off and misleading". The tweet was in reference to Chouhan's public stance of being aggressive against mafia.

Jaipur Zoo shut down after rare stork dies

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Jaipur

THE Jaipur Zoo has been shut down indefinitely after the deaths of a rare black stork and three common ducks on Monday. The deaths add fuel to the fear of bird flu, which has till date claimed the lives of 3,000 birds across 15 of the 33 districts in Rajasthan.

Sources said that the Jaipur Zoo was being sanitized as officials said that besides the four deaths, several birds were sick. Samples have been sent to Bhopal for test to identify the exact cause of deaths. Medical tests are being conducted on all birds in the zoo.

A fortnight ago, several crows that had died in Jaipur were found to be infected. Given the fear of bird flu, authorities have started spraying sodium hypochlorate in a bid to preventing the spread.

Chief Wildlife Warden Mohanlal Meena said, "After the four birds were found dead on Monday, the zoo was sanitised and closed. Samples of bird carcasses from 15 districts have been sent to a Bhopal lab for tests." Bird flu or avian influenza has already been confirmed in 15 of the 33 districts, including Jaipur, Dausa, Sawai Madhopur, Hanumangarh, Jaisalmer, Bikaner, Chittorgarh, Pali, Baran, Kota, Banswara, Sirohi, and Pratapgarh. On Monday, bird flu was confirmed in Tonk and Karauli.

In Rajasthan, around 400 birds, besides the 2,600 crows, have fallen prey to the flu. The list includes 190 peacocks and 195 pigeons. In view of the threat of bird flu, the Rajasthan government has cancelled the holidays of all employees working at animal parks and bird sanctuaries. The condition at the bird sanctuary in Bharatpur district is under control. Most water points and wetlands are still protected from the scourge. No bird deaths has been reported from the sanctuary.

Dynastic politics breeds incapability, says Modi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday came down heavily on dynastic politics, saying it breeds incapability and dictatorship in a democratic set up. In his valedictory address to the Youth Parliament, the Prime Minister argued that dynasts work towards saving the politics of their family and the family in politics.

"Corruption has become a burden on the people whose legacy was corruption. Country is preferring honesty over family connections, and candidates are also understanding that only the good work matters," said the Prime Minister, who called upon the youth to root out dynastic system.

The Prime Minister called upon the youth to take advantage of the flexibility and innovative learning format provided by the National Education Policy. Prime Minister was addressing the valedictory function of the second National Youth Parliament Festival via video conferencing. The event was held in the Central Hall of the Parliament House. Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla in his address said that the future of democracy is bright since the youth are active participants in the affairs of the country.

Congress leader seeks NHRC help for Assam families facing eviction

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Guwahati

CONGRESS leader Debabrata Saikia has written to the National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) alleging gross injustice being meted out to some 1,300 families who face the threat of eviction from a wildlife sanctuary in Assam.

These families were settled at Laika-Dadhia area of Dibru-Saikhowa Wildlife Sanctuary in Tinsukia district after the great earthquake of 1950. Angry over the Assam government's move, the locals have been staging a protest from a makeshift camp outside the DM's office for the past fortnight.

"Three protesters, including a pregnant woman and her unborn child, have died because they were unaware to bear the chill in the makeshift camp. Many other protesters are suffering from fever, nose-bleed etc," Saikia wrote to the NHRC.

Based on a report that he claimed to have acquired from the DM's office, he said the families were living since 1950s long before the area was notified as a wildlife sanctuary.

The Congress leader also drew the Commission's attention to the government's move to evict people belonging to ST and OBC communities from Mikir Bamuni Grant in Nagaon district for handing over the land to a private solar power company.

He said the affected families have been cultivating the land since 1981. "Many of them were given only one day's notice to file their objections. The simple ryots do not possess any documents regarding the land they and their forefathers have been tilling for almost four decades. However, the Assam (Temporarily Settled Areas) Tenancy Act, 1971 provides for bestowing of ownership rights on ryots who cultivate a specific plot of land for three years in succession," Saikia wrote.

Restore J&K's statehood, says Apni Party

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

LASHING out at the Jammu and Kashmir administration for falling short on development goals, J&K Apni Party president Altaf Bukhari on Tuesday urged Prime Minister Narendra Modi to come true on his promise on the restoration of statehood.

Addressing a press conference in Jammu, Bukhari said, "Send a fact-finding team to J&K to assess the real situation. There has been no development. The administration is defunct," he alleged. He sought a CBI probe into the plight of the strategic Srinagar-Jammu highway, which he said remained mostly closed. "The engineers and contractors should be booked under the NSA for they are compromising the nation's security," he claimed. Later, he lashed out at the Gupkar Alliance for creating a smokescreen of lies to deceive people with promises of restoration of Article 370. "It was an alliance of parties for the parties. We never accepted it as peoples' alliance. It is crumbling sooner than expected," he said.

U'khand Congress a divided house over CM face

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Dehradun

FACTIONALISM in the Congress unit in Uttarakhand has reared its head again, with the rival camps of former chief minister Harish Rawat and Leader of Opposition Indira Hridayesh vying for the lead role in the state election.

Uttarakhand goes to poll in 2022. Of the total 70 Assembly seats, the ruling BJP has 56 seats while the Congress has got 11. Lobbying has started in the Congress, with Rawat recently demanding that the party should announce its CM face. Rawat found support from former Assembly speaker Gobind Singh Kunjwal. The Congress veteran even tweeted Devendra Yadav, Uttarakhand in charge of the party, requesting him to announce the CM candidate.

But, the Indira Hridayesh camp assert their leader managed to hold her constituency Haldwani in 2017 despite a strong Modi wave which felled Harish Rawat in Haridwar-Rural and Kichcha. "Indiraji was able to maintain her stronghold even at the peak of the Modi wave which swept Uttar Pradesh with over 300 seats and with more than 50 seats out of 70-member Assembly in Uttarakhand. She must be the party face as she has an image of strong leader and has ample experience," said one of her aides.

While PCC vice-president Suryakant Dhasmana maintained that the party will contest as a single unit, his senior Pritam Singh chose not to comment on the matter.

ex-CM is unlikely to keep a low profile, as Dehradun-based political commentator Jay Singh Rawat observed, given that he has managed to etch out a space in the national politics despite his setback in 2017. "The party high command has made him a general secretary of the party and given key responsibilities such as Punjab," he said.

State's tableaux on folk music selected for R-Day

The splendor and sonorous tone of Chhattisgarh folk music will resonate on the Janpath this Republic Day as the Defence Ministry has selected its tableaux for the marquee event. Chhattisgarh was vying for a spot against 27 states eight union territories. A special committee of the ministry scrutinised the state's offering during a gruelling selection process spanning five rounds. The tableaux depict the folk instruments used in the tribal areas of Bastar in south and Sarguja in the north, along with their ethnic background.

Mining major embraces enterprise resources planning

Mining giant National Mineral Development Corporation Ltd (NMDC) has become the first public sector enterprise to implement SAP Enterprise Resources Planning (ERP) solution. It will help integrate and consolidate all end-to-end business processes and lead to improvement in operational efficiency, besides ensuring higher transparency. It was inaugurated by the NMDC CMD Sumit Deb. The new ERP system will also form the backbone for the future digital initiatives. Besides the two iron-ore complexes in Maoist-affected Dantewada (south Chhattisgarh), the NMDC operates one at Donimalai in Karnataka.

Cops' table-top calendar highlights achievements

Riding on the success of their three-pronged Vishwas-Vikas-Suraksha initiative, the Bastar police are taking their outreach drive a notch higher through table-top calendars. The calendar highlights the various initiatives of the official machinery. Their initiative has led to a 40 per cent decline in Maoist violence, and this figures in the calendar. The captions in the local tribal Gondi/ Halbi language about the various community outreach programmes are the main attraction. Counter propaganda and community policing campaigns like Bastar Tha Matta (voice of Bastar) and Lon Varatu (return to your village) are the other salient points.

BJP leadership eyes reclaiming ground lost to Cong

It has been two years since BJP lost power to Congress in the state, but it has not given up. The leadership is out to galvanise the rank and file to prepare it for Mission 2023-Vijay Chhattisgarh, and Mission 2024-Bharat Vijay. BJP general secretary and Chhattisgarh in-charge D Purandeshwari during her recent visit to Raipur and other districts reviewed the party's strength and performance. The state leadership was asked to prepare a roadmap to strengthen the party base in constituencies where the party could not particularly do well in 2018. "Propagate Centre's achievements and the state government's failure among the masses," she told the cadre.

WILL PENCE OUST TRUMP? DEMOCRATS PLAN LONG-SHOT VOTE

If the vice president doesn't act, lawmakers will proceed with planned impeachment today; Trump warns supporters against violence

WASHINGTON

IMPEACHMENT ahead, the House on Tuesday will first try to convince the vice president and Cabinet to act even more quickly to remove President Donald Trump from office, warning he is a threat to democracy in the remaining days of his presidency.

House lawmakers are reconvening at the Capitol for the first time since the deadly pro-Trump riot to approve a resolution calling on Vice President Mike Pence to invoke the 25th Amendment to declare the president unable to serve. Pence is not expected to take any such action. The House would next move swiftly to impeach Trump.

Trump told reporters at the White House the prospect of impeachment is causing "tremendous anger" in the nation. But he said he wants "no violence."

The president spoke as he left for Texas to survey the border wall with Mexico. His remarks were his first to reporters since the Capitol attack. He took no questions. On impeachment, Trump said it's "a really terrible thing that they're doing." But he said, "We want no violence. Never violence."

Trump faces a single charge — "incitement of insurrection" — in the impeachment resolution that the House will begin debating Wednesday, a week before Democrat Joe Biden is set to be inaugurated, Jan. 20.

The unprecedented events, only the first U.S. president to be twice impeached, are unfolding in a nation bracing for more unrest. The FBI has warned ominously of potential armed protests in Washington and many states by Trump loyalists ahead of Biden's inauguration. In a dark foreshadowing, the Washington Monument was closed to the public and the inauguration ceremony on the west steps of the Capitol will be off limits to the public.

It all added up to stunning final moments for Trump's presidency as Democrats and a growing number of Republicans declare he is unfit for office and could do more damage after inciting a mob that violently ransacked the US Capitol last Wednesday.

A Capitol police officer died from injuries suffered in the riot, and police shot a woman during the riot. Three others died in what authorities said were medical emergencies.

"We have to be very tough and very strong right now in defending the Constitution and democracy," said Rep. Jamie Raskin, D-Md., an author of both pieces of legislation, in an interview.

According to Axios, Trump and the top Republican in the House of Representatives, Kevin McCarthy, had a stormy phone conversation Tuesday in which Trump claimed that left wing Antifa activists, not his supporters, attacked Congress.

"It's not Antifa," McCarthy reportedly responded. "I know. I was there."

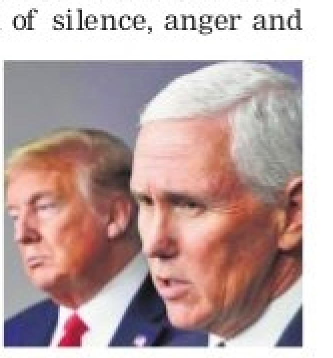
Détente at the top before vote?

WASHINGTON

DONALD Trump and Vice President Mike Pence appear to have come to a détente after nearly a week of silence, anger and finger-pointing.



US President Trump and Vice President Mike Pence (R) | AFP

The two met Monday evening in the Oval Office and had a "good conversation," according to a senior administration official. It was their first time speaking since last Wednesday, when Trump incited his supporters to storm the Capitol building as Pence was presiding over certification of election results.

During their conversation, the official said, Trump and Pence pledged to continue to work for "the remainder of their term" — a seeming acknowledgement that the vice president will not pursue efforts to try to invoke the 25th Amendment. AP

Jayapal blames Republicans after positive Covid-19 test

WASHINGTON

A third Democratic member of the House who was forced to go into lockdown during last week's violent siege at the US Capitol has tested positive for Covid-19.

Representative Brad Schneider, a Democrat from Illinois, said on Twitter that he tested positive Tuesday morning. He said he is not feeling symptoms but expressed dismay at the spate of positive test results and blamed Republican members of Congress who declined to wear a mask when it was offered to them during the lockdown. "Today, I am now in strict isolation, worried that I have risked my wife's health and angry at the selfishness and arrogance of the anti-maskers who put their own contempt and disregard for decency ahead of the health and safety of their colleagues and our staff," Schneider said.

Indian-origin US Representative Pramila Jayapal, a Democrat | AP

Schneider's comments came a few hours after similar remarks from Pramila Jayapal who said she had tested positive and criticised GOP members of Congress.

"Too many Republicans have refused to take this pandemic and virus seriously, and in doing so, they endanger everyone around them," Jayapal said. "Only hours after President Trump incited a deadly assault on our Capitol... many Republicans still refused to take the bare minimum Covid-19 precaution". AP

IIP contracts by 1.9%, inflation in comfort zone

Data indicates rise in September, October due to festive season and pent-up demand

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

HAVING entered positive territory for the first time in October after the outbreak of the Covid-19 pandemic, India's Index of Industrial Production (IIP) once again sank into the negative zone in November—contracting 1.9 per cent. However, retail inflation stayed within the RBI's comfort zone at 4.59 per cent. IIP had risen by 3.6 per cent in October and grown by 2.1 per cent in November 2019. While many have been hinting that the worst might be over, economists had warned last month that one should not assume that recovery was well under way and that a two-three month wait was required in order to see the trend.

According to Sunil Kumar Sinha, principal economist at India Ratings & Research, the November IIP data shows that the uptick witnessed in September and October was because of a combination of festive season and pent-up demand. He noted that the recovery was still "shallow" and "fragile". The data suggests that the contraction was driven by manufacturing and mining. Mining and manufacturing output in November shrank by 7.3 per cent and 1.7 per cent respectively, while electricity output grew by 3.5 per cent.

In terms of end user classification, Primary goods output contracted by 2.5 per cent; Capital goods output contracted by 7.1 per cent; Intermediate goods output contracted by 3 per cent; Infrastructure and construction goods output rose by 0.7 per cent; and both Consumer durables and non-durables output contracted by 0.7 per cent.

contraction recorded in mining sector output

7.1%
contraction recorded in capital goods output

Sinha added that no use-based segment has either touched or surpassed the production level recorded in the pre-Covid period— before February 2020.

IIP for the April-November period contracted by 15.5 per cent, according to the data release, compared to a flat growth of 0.3 per cent during the same period last fiscal.

On a positive note, a low base and softening of vegetable prices helped in softening consumer price index (CPI) for December at 4.59 per cent, much to the relief of the government. Inflation has been above the RBI's upper limit of 6 per cent for the eight months running up to November.

Tesla registers Indian subsidiary in Bengaluru

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

IT is official now. Tesla Inc, the US-based electric vehicle behemoth, has registered with the Registrar of Companies in Bengaluru as 'Tesla India Motors and Energy Private Limited' on January 8, 2021.

The most valued carmaker in the world, has registered itself as a private company with an authorised capital of ₹15 lakh. Tesla's application states that its offices will be located on Lavelle Road, near Richmond Circle in Central Bengaluru.

CEO Elon Musk had said that Tesla cars would be available in India this year. Union Minister for Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Nitin Gadkari, too, had confirmed its entry into the Indian market this year. The New Indian Express was the first to break the story on January 12, saying that the Karnataka government was in talks with Tesla to set up shop in the state.

Tesla announces R&D centre in Bengaluru

The electric vehicle manufacturer has also announced that setting up of a brand new research and development unit which will be located at Lavelle Road. It will begin operations soon.

"We welcome Tesla. Our officials have been in touch with the company authorities and we are working on it," Karnataka's Large and Medium-Scale Industries Minister Jagadish Shettar said. Additional Chief Secretary Gaurav Gupta from Karnataka's Commerce and Industries Department said, "It is a big boost for Bengaluru. It is too early, but it is the first step taken by the company. Everyone will have more confidence as it happens."

With this, 'Brand Bengaluru' has pipped many other states who were in the race, including Maharashtra, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh, Gujarat and Tamil Nadu. The first Tesla car for the Indian market is likely to be rolled out in seven months, officials said.

Japan's benchmark Nikkei share average touched a three-decade high on Tuesday, riding high on the news of Chugai Pharmaceutical's drug being effective in treating Covid-19 patients. The Covid-19 vaccine news comes just when Japan plans to expand its declaration of state of emergency to three weeks including Osaka to stem the spread of Covid-19. TAIWAN

CENTRAL BANK INVESTIGATES CURRENCY SPIKE

Taiwan's central bank sent inspectors to domestic banks to investigate whether exporters are speculating in foreign currency as the Taiwan dollar soars against the US dollar, according to reuters. Taiwan's currency, which is up 1.4% against the US dollar this year, has vexed the government, wary of being labelled a manipulator by the US. Last month, the US Treasury added Taiwan to a monitoring list of countries whose currency practices had caused concern, the first time the island has appeared on the list since 2017. Investigators are looking at any abnormal increases in foreign exchange volumes to discover whether manufacturers are taking the opportunity to speculate in forex. Taiwan's trade-dependent economy has rebounded strongly from the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic, benefiting from global demand for its tech goods as the outbreak forces millions to work at home.

PHILIPPINES

COUNTRY'S CENTRAL BANK SEES SOLID 2021 GROWTH

The worst is over for the pandemic-hit Philippine economy and a remarkable rebound is expected this year, according to its central bank chief. He added that the current accommodative monetary stance was sufficient for a revivial in growth. Speaking at an event ahead of the release of the 2020 GDP data, Governor Benjamin Diokno said he expected solid growth in the December quarter and double-digit growth in Q2 this year. GDP growth is forecast between 6.5-7.5% in 2021, after last year's projected contraction of 8.5-9.5%. The consumption-driven Philippine economy was one of Asia's fastest growing until the pandemic prompted it to impose one of the world's strictest and longest lockdowns, triggering a dramatic slowdown in domestic spending.

Telcos raise doubts on earnest money deposits, roll-out obligations at meet

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ALL major telecom service providers including Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel, and Vodafone Idea on Tuesday were present at the pre-bid conference held by the Department of Telecommunications for the upcoming spectrum auctions. According to sources, during the meeting, the telcos raised several doubts, such as those regarding the payment of earnest money deposits and roll-out obligations.

Officials said that the department has requested the bidders to submit written queries by January 15. The Department of Telecom has already released a notice inviting applications for the spectrum auctions in seven bands—700, 800, 900, 1800, 2100, 2300 and 2500MHz—and the bidding is scheduled to begin on March 1.

Provide incentives, fee waivers for 5G

Consultancy Deloitte on Wednesday said that the Centre has to consider offering a boost to telcos in the form of fee relaxations for 5G acquisitions.

the auctions had only been approved last month by Union Cabinet for a total reserve price of ₹3.92 lakh crore for 2,251.25 Megahertz (MHz) of spectrum assets.

Telecom operators will need to submit their application by February 5 in order to participate in the auction.

Brokerage BNP Paribas had, last week, said that the auction has turned into a buyer's market, and may see "minimal competition" since it is expected that operators would be going after airwaves that yield the best value for money instead of focusing on renewing all expiring spectrum.

ICICI Securities, for its part, observed that the final prices are likely to be equal to the reserve prices due to significant supply of radiowaves, and likely limited demand for expiring radiowaves and bandwidth.

Telecom industry experts believe that the auction may not see aggressive bidding and that it would see telcos bid more to meet the continuity requirements of the industry rathen for major growth.

Toyota ends lockout at Bidadi facility

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

TOYOTA Kirloskar Motor (TKM) said on Tuesday that it has ended the nearly 2 months-long lockout and resumed operations at its facility in Bidadi, Karnataka, after 1,200 employees gave an undertaking of good behaviour to the management. More than 3,500 workers at Toyota Kirloskar's Bidar plant have been protesting against extended work hours as the company aims to increase production capacity. Workers unions have alleged that nearly 66 employees were suspended and said that the sit-in protests at the facility will continue.

"In-light of the continued illegal strike by Toyota Kirloskar Motor Employees Union, the management was forced to announce a second lock-out on November 23, 2020. However, the company had resumed production with over 1,200 team members who had expressed their intention to work with discipline, through a simple undertaking of good behaviour. Thereafter, in view of a recent meeting held between Dr. Ashwathnarayan, Deputy Chief Minister, Karnataka with the TKM management and having observed a gradual improvement in safety situation, both inside and outside the company premises, TKM Management have decided to withdraw the lock-out, without any compromise to discipline and productivity," the company said in a statement. Operations will be enhanced with effect from second shift of January 12, it said.

Next set of fresh NPAs may arise from India's top 100 bank borrowers: RBI

SUNITHA NATTI

THE next set of slippages could come from the top 100 bank borrowers, according to the RBI. Slippages are nothing but fresh additions to bad loans during a given quarter.

The share of the top 100 large borrowers in the gross NPA pool declined from 12.6 per cent in March 2020 to 8.8 per cent as on September 2020. However, large advances in the SMA-0 category registered a jump of 155.6 per cent over the previous quarter and 245.6 per cent over March 2020 levels, portending slippages in the ensuing quarters, RBI noted in its latest Financial Stability Report.

Standard assets overdue for 1-30 days are categorised as SMA-0, while those pending for 31-60 days and 61-90 days fall under SMA-1 and SMA-2, respectively.

According to RBI, the top 100 borrowers accounted for 17 per cent of gross advances, down from 17.5 per cent as on March 2020, while the share of restructured standard advances increased, indicating that large borrowers have commenced availing restructuring benefits extended for borrowers facing Covid-related stress. The proportion of substandard and doubtful advances contracted while that of loss assets increased, reflecting ageing of the NPA portfolio. A large borrower is one who has aggregate fund-based and non-fund based exposure of ₹5 crore and above. The top 100 borrowers account for 33.7 per cent of large borrower loans.

The share of large borrowers in the aggregate loan portfolios and GNPAs of SCBs sustained its downward trajectory, declining to 50.5 per cent and 73.5 per cent respectively as on September 2020. However, foreign banks saw a marginal increase in the gross NPA ratio of large borrowers. In fact, their share has been declining since March 2018 implying that on an incremental basis, credit and NPA accretions were occurring in the small borrower category in the recent period.

Meanwhile, the share of the industrial segment continues to be the highest in total outstanding credit followed by retail and services. Large industries account for an 82.3 per cent share in the total outstanding credit to industries, but reported a fall of 1.78 per cent in November 2020 vs a growth of 3 per cent in November 2019. Though infrastructure has the maximum share of 36.6 per cent in the total bank credit outstanding to industries, it registered a de-growth of 1.8 per cent as on November 2020 compared with a growth of 8 per cent a year ago.

Retail credit growth bounced bank last November after registering slow offtake in September and October 2020. It accounted for 28.8 per cent share of total credit during the period. Outsatanding credit grew 8.8% for services and fell by 0.7% for the industries.

Cement manufacturers lash out at builders' lobby, allege profiteering

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

There is a clear cartel among builders... holding on to prices despite having a margin of more than 100 per cent. We urge the government to ask each builder to come clean on costing —N Srinivasan, Pres., SICMA

CEMENT manufacturers based in the South lashed out on Wednesday at what they claimed were attempts by builders to mislead the government in an effort to protect exorbitant margins. This comes in the wake of recent statements from builders' lobbies and Union road transport minister Nitin Gadkari accusing cement companies of indulging in cartelisation to jack-up prices. The real estate industry has also sought a regulator for the cement industry.

Refuting these claims, the newly-formed South India Cement Manufacturers Association (SICMA) said in a letter to Prime Minister Narendra Modi that there was instead an urgent need for proactive measures to curb undue profiteering persisting in the real estate industry. SICMA president N Srinivasan said that builders have been using every excuse to blame cement makers for manipulating prices even as the cement industry was the "least cause contribution" to high realty prices.

"There is a clear cartel among builders under the banner of CREDAI (The Confederation of Real Estate Developers' Association of India) and BAI (The Builders Association of India) who are holding on to prices despite having a margin of more than 100 per cent. We urge the government to ask each builder to come out clean on costing," said Srinivasan, who is also the vice-chairman and MD, India Cements.

According to Srinivasan, just half a bag of cement is needed to construct one sq ft of building space and that cement accounts for just 1.5-2 per cent of the selling price of a house.

"Given an FSI of 2/2.4, the cost of land in a flat would be around ₹4,200 a sq.ft. With construction cost of ₹2,000-2,500, the total flat price would work out to a maximum of ₹6,700 per sq ft. However, the selling price of a house ranges from ₹15,000-20,000 a sq.ft," SICMA said.

Even if the price of cement were increased by ₹100 per bag, it would mean just an additional cost of just ₹50, SICMA said, adding that whenever questioned, "they, (builders), as a strategy raise the bogey of rising input costs, particularly cement". Srinivasan also observed that the retail price of cement was much lower than the invoice price due to the wide range of choices available in the market and because builders get cement at discounted prices.

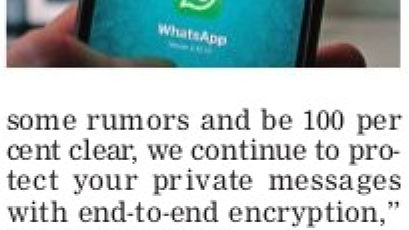
Whatsapp firefights as installations dive in India

BISMAH MALIK @ New Delhi

ATTEMPTING to dispel rising privacy concerns on its platform, Whatsapp on Tuesday said that neither it nor its parent firm Facebook had access to the personal messages sent on the messaging service.

Whatsapp said that the recent announcements regarding a policy update pertains to only communications with business accounts whereas personal messages and call logs would continue to remain secure. "We want to address some rumors and be 100 per cent clear, we continue to protect your private messages with end-to-end encryption," the company said.



The firm said that end-to-end encryption will hold for all the personal calls or messaging that also involves colleagues. Whatsapp also assured that it did not have access to the user's shared location and that the contact lists on users' phones were only shared with Facebook if the user grants permission. Group privacy will also not be compromised, it added.

However, when it comes to communicating with businesses on Whatsapp, messages will not be end-to-end encrypted and will be shared with Facebook for marketing purposes. The user will also be informed that the communication is being done with a business account using Facebook's hosting services. Facebook's in-app shops can also display their goods on Whatsapp and the user will be able to see ads according to the past shopping activity. These measures come into effect on February 8 .

Meanwhile, data from analytics firm Sensor Tower suggested that the installs of Whatsapp in India have fallen 35 per cent during January 6-10, while Signal's spiked by 9,483 per cent and Telegram's by 15 per cent on a week-on-week basis.

Smith shocked by scuffing controversy

Steve Smith said he is disappointed at the controversy created by allegations levelled against him for scuffing up the guard mark of Rishabh Pant on the fifth day of the third Test. "I have been quite shocked and disappointed by the reaction… It's such a shame that this and other events have taken away from what was a great batting performance by India," Smith said.

Saina gets green light to play, after drama off-court

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

SAINA Nehwal and HS Prannoy tested positive for Covid-19 on Tuesday morning. By Tuesday night, both of them had been cleared to take part in the ongoing Thailand Open. A drama-filled day for the Indian contingent also included K Srikanth bleeding from the nose after a nasal swab gone wrong, PV Sindhu losing from a game up, Parupalli Kashyap still unsure of his place in the tournament after being expelled along with Saina early on Tuesday and the Indian team being categorised as 'high risk' by the World Badminton Federation (BWF).

Saina Nehwal

Saina was in fact staring at a 10-day isolation at a local hospital. But all three of them, including Kashyap and Prannoy, underwent antibody tests later. As Saina and Prannoy tested positive, they were allowed back into the first meet of the Asian swing. While Saina's name was on Wednesday's schedule, Kashyap's was missing. "Nehwal and Prannoy tested positive on the PCR test but their antibody IgG was positive. A positive antibody test means a person has been infected with the Covid-19 virus at some point in the past. It does not mean they are currently infected." the BWF stated in its release.

Saina was far from pleased when she was told to isolate. "I still didn't receive the Covid test report from yesterday (Monday) it's very confusing and today just before the warm up for the match they tell me to got to hospital in bangkok… saying that I'm positive…according to rules, the report should come in 5 hours..@bwfmedia," she wrote on Twitter.

Even when that issue was threatening to derail the Indian contingent's plans, Srikanth wasn't a happy man. A nasal swab is unpleasant but it's not supposed to draw blood. "We take care of ourselves for the match not to come and shed blood for THIS," he wrote on his Twitter handle, @srikidambi. "However, I gave 4 tests after I have arrived and I can't say any of them have been pleasant. Unacceptable."

The one saving grace is that Nehwal's match has been rescheduled for Wednesday. Prannoy anyway wasn't slated to play till Wednesday. B Sai Praneeth lost 16-21, 10-21 against local player Kantaphon Wangcharoen whereas Sindhu forfeited one-game advantage to lose 21-16, 24-26, 13-21 against Mia Blichfeldt of Denmark. Ashwini Ponnappa had a mixed day as she won her mixed doubles contest along with Satwiksairaj Rankireddy. But she lost in women's doubles with partner N Sikki Reddy.

Punjab cruise past K'taka in SMA Trophy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IT was a day to forget for defending champions Karnataka, who suffered a nine-wicket loss to Punjab in the Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy, Group A clash, in Alur on Tuesday. Siddharth Kaul (4/26) starred with a hat-trick while opener Prabhsimran Singh made 52-ball 89 in a game, where Karun Nair and his men were outplayed in all departments.

Karnataka were always going to be tested against a top-class bowling attack comprising Kaul, Sandeep Sharma, Arshdeep Singh and Mayank Markande.

The problem for Karnataka was the failure of their batsmen to string a respectable partnership. Though some of Karnataka players got off to a decent start, they failed to convert that into a meaningful score. Scores of 13 by Nair, Devdutt Padikkal (19), Deshpande (16) did not hold good when the senior pros, including KL Rahul, Manish Pandey and Mayank Agarwal are missing from the squad.

Kadam top-scored with 33, but his dismissal in 16.3 overs led to a downfall with Kaul completing his hat-trick scalping Aniruddha Joshi and Abhimanyu Mithun in the next two balls. They just managed 125/8.

After the batsmen failed to put a decent score on the board, the onus fell on the Karnataka bowlers, who found it tough to contain Prabhsimran. The opener was in a hurry to finish the game and took on the bowlers with ridiculous ease as Punjab were 60/0 during the powerplay. Prabhsimran's unbeaten innings comprised nine fours and five sixes. K Gowtham took the lone wicket for Karnataka, dismissing Abhishek Sharma.

Brief scores

Hyderabad 153/8 (Tilak Varma 44, Tanmay Agarwal 34, Suryakant Pradhan 3/34) bt Odisha 147/4 (Govinda Poddar 50, Subhransu Senapati 42 n.o, Rajesh Dhupar 30 n.o).

Karnataka 125/8 (Siddharth Kaul 4/26) lost to Punjab 127/1 in 14.4 ovs (Prabhsimran 89 n.o).

Assam 126/7 lost to Tamil Nadu 128/0 in 15 ovs (N Jagadeesan 78 n.o, C Hari Nishaanth 47 n.o).

BUMRAH OUT OF GABBA

Natarajan or Thakur will come in for pacer, Vihari may shrug off hamstring concern to make team

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

ALREADY depleted because of several injuries to key players, India will take the field in Brisbane on Friday without their strike bowler Jasprit Bumrah who has been advised rest because of an abdominal strain. Either Shardul Thakur or T Natarajan could replace Bumrah as a call would be taken only after the visitors take a look at the Gabba pitch.

During the third Test, Bumrah had complained of abdominal strain and even took medical help on Day 3. Though he continued to bowl in the second innings, India believed it was only a strain. But, on Tuesday, scans revealed that the strain is lot worse than originally thought. There are fears that in case he doesn't get adequate rest, it could turn into a tear.

While the Indian team management sounded optimistic on Monday evening about Bumrah's availability for Brisbane, there are fears that he might break down if he plays the fourth Test. With just a three day gap between the Tests, there is not enough rest and recovery period. Moreover, with an important series lined up against England, India believe resting Bumrah will be sensible.

Apart from not having the services of Ishant Sharma and Bhunveshwar Kumar, injured before the series even began, they also lost Mohammed Shami and Umesh Yadav to injuries in the first and the second Tests respectively. At Melbourne and Sydney, India have already given Test caps to Mohammed Siraj and Navdeep Saini. As far as the Gabba Test goes, the toss up is now between Thakur (10 balls in one Test) and T Natarajan (uncapped) to partner Siraj and Saini. Ravichandran Ashwin, with a tweaked back, is expected to be the lone specialist spinner. There is also a strong possibility that Washington Sundar will replace Jadeja ahead of Kuldeep Yadav as he can be handy with the bat.

As far as Bumrah goes, his workload management has remained a concern, particularly after he suffered a back injury last year that ruled him out for four months. Thanks to his unique action, India have been handling him cautiously, ensuring he gets enough rest. Even on this tour, he warmed the bench during the T20 leg, but injuries to Shami and Umesh has increased his workload. They were anyway planning to rest him for at least a couple of Tests against England starting on February 5.

Meanwhile, India are also monitoring the hamstring injury to middle-order batsman Hanuma Vihari, who hasn't been ruled out of Brisbane Test as yet. Despite struggling in Sydney, it is understood that his condition is improving.

While Ashwin too is nursing a back issue, the team management expects him to be fit for the Test. However the pace attack will be short on experience. Mumbai pacer Thakur's lone Test was cut short by a hamstring injury.

Hotel problem in Brisbane

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

IF battling injuries wasn't enough, India were left to deal with new issues on arrival in Brisbane. After being promised a relaxed quarantine, the team members found themselves confined to their floors in the hotel. There was no hotel staff. It is understood that after the BCCI got in touch with CA, the team was granted a few relaxations, like taking help from the housekeeping staff.

On Sunday, after the CA promised to address their concerns about strict quarantine in Brisbane, the two teams left for fourth Test. But on arrival, they were told to stay put on their floor. "A nearby Indian restaurant is catering to our needs, and they need time to deliver. Since all of us are under quarantine, packed food is kept at one end of the hotel floor and we have to collect it," sources in India team told this daily. However, after BCCI stepped in, CA has promised hotel staff will be available to the players. But said no to gym and pool.

BFC end losing streak

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

BENGALURU FC managed to collect a point after four defeats, following a 1-1 draw against NorthEast United FC in the ISL match on Tuesday. NorthEast had taken the lead via Luis Machado's 27th minute strike, which was cancelled out by Rahul Bheke in the second half.

Bengaluru started on a positive note, but lacked penetration in the final third. NorthEast took lead in rather fortuitous manner. Federico Gallego took a shot on goal, which was miscued completely. Inadvertently, it ended up as a pass for Machado, who scored. Luck smiled on Bengalulu in the 49th minute when Bheke's long-range effort resulted in a goal, thanks to a goalkeeping howler by Gurmeet, who failed to make a regulation save.

Bengalureans are embracing the year's first festival with safety and fervour; while some are sticking to tradition, others are adding a twist with new-age edible creations

City residents participate in the Sankranti mela being organised by the Department of Horticulture till Thursday at Lalbagh | SHRIRAM BN

WELCOME CHANGE

VIDYA IYENGAR

FOR Dr Mythri Shankar, Sankranti is more than just traditional rituals. The nuclear medicine specialist has been creating awareness on osteoporosis and bone health for the last few years and believes this festival holds the key to good health. "Sesame seeds are an excellent source of calcium, sunlight is key to improve Vitamin D levels, and the new harvest of vegetables is good for overall health," says Shankar. The new crop heralds new celebrations, especially after a tough 2020 with a raging pandemic holding us captive. Now, Bengalureans across communities are looking forward to celebrating the new crop.

Come Friday and Shankar will host a small garden party for family and friends, which will comprise an organic meal complete with sugarcane juice, and both sweet and khara pongal with servings of avarekai. Instead of sakkare acchu (sugar moulds), she has ordered jaggery cups in which ellu-bella will be distributed. Veggies harvested in her garden, including turmeric, a fruit basket, and ellu-bella mixture will be distributed to guests. "In the evening, we'll probably host a camp fire for the family," she says. Like Shankar, actor Priyanka Upendra's festive plans also include catching up with family at a lunch hosted by husband and actor Upendra's family. "Uppi has been travelling, so this is the time we're all meeting. With all of us being busy, it's going to be a rather quiet one," she says.

Giving tradition a twist is food consultant and recipe developer Gauravi Vinay, who is creating a nut butter comprising the ellu-bella ingredients. Last year, after moving back from Melbourne, Gauravi was looking to create a meaningful experience as well as something that incorporates modern-day methods. "Nut butters are hugely popular grab-and-go snack, which made me contemplate this creation. When I shared this with my sister, she felt that Bengaluru too would be open to such a concept," says Gauravi, who makes this bottled butter once a year. "I wait until New Year to ensure I use a new crop of all the ingredients– after all that's the significance of this festival," she adds. The nut butter is priced at ₹230 a jar for 125g and is available through her Instagram handle @gauravi _vinay.

In Malleswaram, which is the city's traditional hub, homemaker Mangala Narasimhan is working on preparing a sweet pumpkin-avarekai palya, along with different types of pongal. The morning will see her heading to a temple in Sadashivnagar where she will distribute ellu-bella to 25 friends. "These are traditions that have been passed on over generations, and I'm just trying to keep them alive," she says.

Grand plans are usually in the offing for the Punjabi Sabha in Bengaluru but Janak Raj Madaan, president of the association, wanted to stay on the side of caution in the light of the pandemic. "We hope we can do something for Baisakhi," he says. Meanwhile, Lalit Sanghvi, who runs the event management company Limelite is hosting a celebration at Puran Da Dhaba on Richmond Road, where not more than 50 people will partake a meal comprising makki di roti and sarson ka saag. "To keep the festive spirit alive, we are recreating a village setting where a fire will be lit and a ghazal singer will perform," says Sanghvi, adding that though the crowd will be small, the idea is to be in the festive spirit this season.

Treble Puns' new song, The Pat Earn, moves away from mainstream music as it offers multiple instruments playing simultaneously, and snatches of spoken word instead of lyrics

SIMRAN AHUJA

Treble Puns' new single may just give you a sense of deja vu. Called The Pat Earn, the instrumental track has no lyrics but just snatches of spoken word, particularly from The Fantastic Four movie. "It's the dialogue from the scene where Mr Fantastic is trying to stir up a conversation with Invisible Girl in the library. He says, 'So you like music. Is that kinda like your thing?'. And we knew we just had to use it in our song," says Abhimanyu Roy, who along with Sohini Bhattacharya forms the two-piece outfit. Between the two of them, and with some help from computers and loopers, the duo has about 4-5 instruments playing simultaneously in this song. "We try to exercise a certain sense of 'word economy' in our music. We like to give our listeners an idea of what we mean without being extremely prescriptive about what to make of the song. It's like we're saying, 'Hey, meet us halfway, tell us what you interpret'," continues Roy.

Given the name of the band, it's no surprise that their track name, The Pat Earn, also carries a small twist to it. "This song is typical of the loopy way in which we tend to make music. The loops create patterns but it isn't always easy to spot. It's almost a challenge for listeners to spot them and if you get it right, you earn a pat," says Bhattacharya, quickly adding, "And that's another Treble Pun." Over three minutes, the song transitions twice, with each segment containing a couple of complex rhythm structures where the acoustic guitars and drums fight with each other to take control of the listener's senses. The bass-lines and keys add further layers and melodies. "What we loved doing with this song is trying to hold on to the sound of one instrument from start to finish. Try it for yourself! It's super hard to do," says Roy.

The band was formed in 2018 and soon after, both Roy and Bhattacharya quit their corporate jobs (marketing and relationship management, respectively) to pursue music full-time. In 2020, they released their first album, Sounds Like Treble. Now, besides making music (where Roy handles guitar and composing, and Bhattacharya is the drummer and arranger) they also offer sonic branding services to small and medium businesses. Speaking of future projects, Roy says, "We are primarily musicians as opposed to being singer-songwriters. So sound is mostly what we're obsessed with. We will probably record a song with proper singing soon enough but so far, it has just been spoken word."

Pravara Theatre is back with the 100th show of Beg Borrow Aliya, wherein the group tries to drive home the charm of living in an extended family

A JOINT MESSAGE

A scene from the play Beg Borrow Aliya

EXPRESS FEATURES

They say theatre holds a mirror to society, making humour an effective tool to dispense a message. This is what city-based theatre group Pravara Theatre is trying to do with their play Beg Borrow Aliya, which sheds light on the importance of living in a joint family. Their upcoming show is special as it marks the 100th show by the group, which is excited to finally perform it almost a year after it was planned for. "We were to stage the 100th show in March 2020, but due to the lockdown, it got pushed. Otherwise this would have been our 124th show," says Hanu Ramasanjeeva, actor and director of the play.

The play, which has been written by M S Narasimhamurthy, revolves around a family drama where the lead characters, Vishwa and his wife Vishalu, are looking for the perfect son-in-law (aliya is the Kannada word for son-in-law, which explains the title). Vishalu, however, has some conditions: Besides earning a big fat paycheck, the prospective groom should not be living with his parents since her daughter would face issues while living in a joint family. This plays out as the family also deals with a murder mystery. "The glory of living in a joint family is slowly vanishing, with more and more people opting to live in a nuclear set up. Living with an extended family can be good and bad. For example, if a couple fights, it is most likely to be settled within the four walls of the house than the husband and wife taking the matter to court. Having elders around makes people more patient," explains Ramasenjeeva, calling it their most popular play.

The team added the funny take in hope of conveying the social message better, and though the play is in Kannada, response has been positive from non-Kannada speaking audience members as well. So much so that the team never thought of translating the play into another language. "Sometime, it's the beauty of the regional language that makes it look so seamless. And moreover, certain dialogues are in English too, which makes it easy for the audience to grasp," says Ramasenjeeva.

Since this is their first show after the lockdown, the group paid extra attention to their performance venue. "We picked an open space where people can enjoy the play without any inhibitions," says Ramasanjeeva.

Beg Borrow Aliya will be performed at 7pm on Jan. 16, at Ravindra Kalakshetra campus

FIT BIT

SARAL BHUJANGASANA

(EASY COBRA POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'saral' means 'easy', 'bhujanga' means 'snake', and 'asana' means 'pose'. It is also called Sphinx Pose, which is an excellent preparatory pose for backward bending poses like Bhujangasana, Dhanurasana, Ustrasana, Chakrasana, etc. It is also one of the excellent yoga poses for beginners as it is much easier for them to hold the pose for an extended period of time. It eases the set of muscles that straighten and rotate the back, slowly preparing the back and spine for moving into more intense variations. Spiritually, it is associated with Swadhisthana (Sacral) Chakra.

STEPS

- Lie flat on your stomach.
- Rest the forehead on the floor.
- Keep legs straight, feet together and toes pointing backward.
- Now bend the arms and place the forearms on the floor with palms facing downwards.
- The fingertips should point forward and be in line with the crown of the head.
- Keep the elbows tucked into the sides of the body.
- Inhale and lift the head, chest and shoulders up, so that elbows are directly under shoulders and the upper arms making a right angle.
- The forearms, elbows and hands must rest on the floor.
- Hold the position for 15-20 seconds or for a comfortable period of time. Keep breathing normally.
- If comfortable, the final position can be held for 4 to 5 minutes.
- Become aware of the breath, follow it and also be aware of the back relaxing with every breath.
- Now exhale and slowly lower yourself to the starting position.
- Finally, relax and take a deep breath.

BENEFITS

- Helps to keep the spine supple and healthy.
- Alleviates back pain.
- Strengthens arms and shoulders.
- An excellent preparatory pose for other backward bending yoga poses.
- Regular practise relieves a stiff back. Good for the respiratory system.
- Gently massages the abdominal organs and improves their functioning.
- It is one of the easy yoga poses and can be made a part of yoga for beginners.

LIMITATIONS

- Don't keep your body stiff and arms straight.
- Pregnant women should avoid this.
- Don't force yourself too much while practising it.
- Keep your buttocks loose as they tend to tighten up naturally.

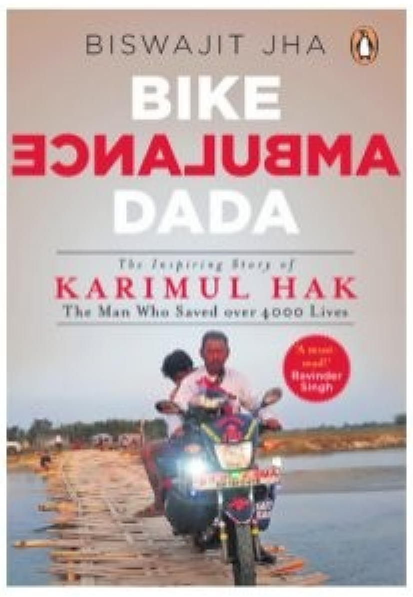
'HIS BIKE AMBULANCE WAS MORE CONVENIENT'

TURNING PAGES

Biswajit Jha

Now that Karimul had a bike, he was no longer dependent on his cycle to ferry a patient. The bike gave the patients a greater chance of survival by ensuring they got to the hospital quickly. Karimul, too, was under less pressure, physically and mentally; he could be more certain of patients getting timely medical attention, be they sick or injured, and riding a motorbike was far less physically taxing than cycling all the way with a passenger.

One day, in 2008, when Karimul was enjoying a cup of tea with some acquaintances at a tea shop in Kranti Bazaar, one of them, Babu Mohanta, suddenly cried out. The engrossing discussion on political affairs was halted abruptly. The small group sprang into action to find out the reason behind Mohanta's shriek. Investigations revealed that a snake had bitten him just above the ankle. Karimul immediately made up his mind to identify the snake, as this would help the doctor decide on the course of treatment; it was imperative in such cases. He saw the snake but could not identify it. Thinking fast, he somehow caught the snake and put it in a small box so that he could carry it to the hospital. He applied a pressure bandage on the wound as well. With the help of those around them, Karimul got Mohanta tied to his back and asked a villager to ride pillion with him. Before starting out for Jalpaiguri Sadar Hospital, Karimul instructed the man to make sure that Mohanta did not fall sleep. The snake, carefully locked in the box, accompanied them to the hospital.



On the way, they met with a huge traffic jam on the bridge over the Teesta, just 5 kilometres from the hospital. The road was chock-a-block with vehicles stranded on the bridge, all trying to find a way out and, in the process, aggravating the situation. As Karimul zipped past the four-wheeled vehicles, he saw an ambulance stuck in the traffic.

When he asked the ambulance driver for the patient's details, he was told that the man had also been bitten by a snake, and they were heading for the same hospital as Karimul.

Manoeuvring his much-smaller vehicle between the cars and moving towards the hospital with Mohanta, the soft-hearted Karimul felt sorry for the patient in the 'proper' ambulance, unable to get out.

Karimul soon reached the hospital. Once there, he showed the snake to the doctor, who was at first startled but then observed it intently for a few seconds before springing into action with the treatment.

After getting Mohanta admitted, Karimul went back to the bridge where they had seen the ambulance. He saw that the ambulance, along with other vehicles, was still there; the patient had, unfortunately, passed away.

After a couple of days, Babu Mohanta was released from the hospital. He was the first person bitten by a poisonous snake in the village to be saved-all because of Karimul's timely intervention and bike ambulance service.

Before this incident, though Karimul had ignored the taunts of some of the villagers and had gone about ferrying patients to hospital, he had sometimes harboured misgivings that his bike ambulance was a poor substitute for the conventional ambulance. But that day, he realized that his bike ambulance was sometimes far more convenient than a standard ambulance.

From then on, there was no looking back for him. His newfound confidence enthused him to serve people with increased passion. After he was awarded the Padma Shri, the Navayuvak Brindal Club, Siliguri, donated to him an ambulance that he used for some months. But the traditional ambulance not only consumed more fuel, it was also rather difficult to drive it to remote and far-flung areas. After some weeks, he stopped using that ambulance; though it is still with him, he doesn't use it.

Instead, he now has three bike ambulances at home; one is used by his elder son, Raju, another by his younger son, Rajesh, while Karimul himself mostly uses the bike ambulance donated by Bajaj Auto, which has an attached carrier for patients.

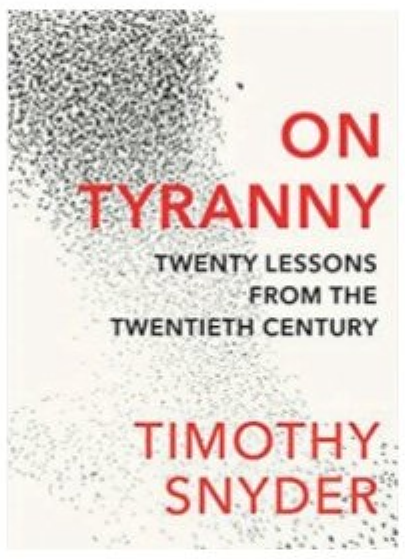
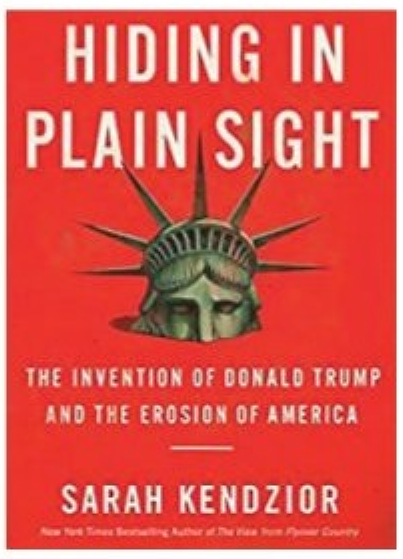
THE FRAGILITY OF DEMOCRACY



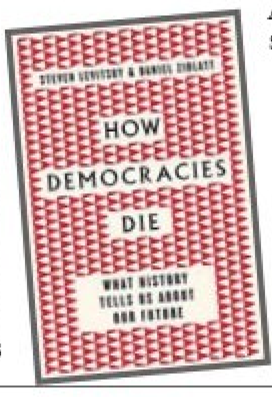


In one of the oldest books on politics, Plato's Republic, written in 375 BCE, a passage describes a dialogue between Socrates and his friends on the nature of different political systems, how they change over time and how one can slowly evolve into another. Socrates makes a shocking statement: "Tyranny is probably established out of no other regimen than democracy."

Plato's description of how a demagogue emerges bears an eerie resemblance to Trump's rise: "A visually appealing demagogue is soon lifted up to protect the interests of the lower class. However, with too much freedom, no requirements for anyone to rule, and having no interest in assessing the background of their rulers, the people become easily persuaded by such a demagogue's appeal to try to satisfy people's common, base, and unnecessary pleasures."

The Trump years have shown us how fragile the notion of democracy is, and that any constitution is only as good as the people who uphold them. India has had its share of elected autocracy, starting with Indira Gandhi's draconian Emergency rule in the mid-1970s when she ruthlessly but "legally" undermined civil liberties. In recent times, India fell to its lowest ever ranking in the Economist Intelligence Unit's democracy index, a drop largely caused by the erosion of civil liberties.

In the book How Democracies Die, Steven Levitsky and Daniel Ziblatt remind us that no constitution by itself is enough to save democracy. It is reinforced by two principles: mutual toleration — our dislike of the other party shouldn't mean that we view our opponents as enemies; and forbearance — an elected leader's strength comesfrom under-utilising, not over-utilising his power.



The last few years have seen the rise of demagogues around the world. History has repeatedly shown us that demagogues come to power through elections and are enabled by established mainstream politicians. Hugo Chavez in Venezuela opened an authoritarian door and Nicolas Maduro walked right in. Similarly in Italy, Benito Mussolini came to power by forming an effective government before declaring himself the dictator in 1925. And it was the conservatives who enabled the rise of Hitler in Germany.

Sarah Kendzior is a scholar who has studied autocratic regimes in countries such as Russia. In her book View from a Flyover Country she wrote (and warned) about the rise of Trump even before he became president. Her latest book Hiding in Plain Sight outlines how Trump's rise coincided with the degradation of the American political system and the continual erosion of civil liberties in the country by foreign powers.

However, demagogy is not new to America. Larry Tye, author of Demagogue, chronicled Senator Joe McCarthy's infamous smear campaign in the 1950s. McCarthy's wild allegations of Communists having infiltrated the US government led to the destruction of many lives. Tye says, "Trump owes a lot to McCarthy's playbook".

Timothy Snyder, professor of History at Yale University and historian of the Holocaust, has carefully dissected the events and values that enabled the rise of Hitler and Stalin and the execution of their catastrophic policies. In his book, On Tyranny, he writes, "Americans are no wiser than the Europeans who saw democracy yield to fascism, Nazism and communism. Our one advantage is that we might learn from their experience."

We should remember that Donald Trump is not the cause but the symptom of a deeper problem. While Trump will leave the White House, Trumpism will not. We continue to live in a highly polarised world and that can be the single biggest reason to kill any democracy!

National pride and matters of prejudice

URBAN BOURBON
Hriday Ranjan
Writer, comedian

I am not a jingoistic person. I do not subscribe to the idea that one must implicitly love one's nation, and not be able to point out its flaws. As a journalist and standup comedian, I have often made fun of our nation's many idiosyncrasies. But two incidents over the last two weeks have made me look at my nation fondly.

The first incident was India drawing the third Test match against Australia. Indian cricket in general and the BCCI in particular is often criticised for abusing their immense economic clout. But this wasn't just some local T20 tournament. This was Test cricket, where a team was fighting to draw the match on the fifth day. This moral victory was brought about by Ravichandran Ashwin, Ajinkya Rahane, Mohammad Siraj and Hanuma Vihari – Test cricket specialists who don't peddle energy drinks and fantasy league apps in the summer.

The Indian cricket team is usually criticised for being flat-track bullies at home; for the extravaganza that is IPL, which is immune to security threats and global pandemics. But this was Test cricket on foreign soil, a young team led by a new captain, devoid of the usual superstars.

Pic: AFP

The second incident was the storming of the US Capitol by mobs demanding a recount of the votes elected in favour of Joe Biden. Watching it play out in the news was surreal in many ways. This wasn't some Latin American nation you see once in four years at the soccer World Cup. It was the United States of America, a nation whose favourite pastime is to teach other countries the rules of democracy. The same USA that overturned nation systems due to their belief in the electoral process.

In spite of all our flaws, we have remained a thriving democracy for 70 years (if one could quickly glide over the two years of the Emergency). You'll never find Indians storming the Parliament to protest election results. One, we are too scared of our politicians, and secondly, who'd risk a lathi charge? No matter where you stand on the CAA or farmers' protests, there is still some dignity in the way we protest and express dissent. We will have the occasional incident where wads of cash will be taken out in the Parliament, but we haven't descended to the standards witnessed last week in the US Capitol.

The incident led to President Donald Trump (I won't be able to add the prefix next week!) getting blocked from social media platforms. That is something you associate with internet trolls, not the, supposedly, most powerful man on the planet!

As a journalist and standup comedian, I usually mock the way things work in our country. While I might not be a jingoist, I do feel there are ways in which we act like a civilised nation. We might not be the most transparent or efficient country, but you'll never find our citizens storming the Parliament with weapons. Irrespective of your stance on the issues, it makes you appreciate the way we protest in India.

As someone who usually cribs about the status quo, I felt it was my responsibility to also point out some of the positives of our country. Now, if only they'd release Munawar Faruqui, a standup comedian arrested for cracking jokes as part of his routine!

DIRECTOR R Chandru is leaving no stones unturned for his upcoming multilingual venture, Kabza. He has now roped in Sudeep to play an important role in the Upendra-starrer. A few days ago, Chandru had hinted at the news on his social media handles and said that he would make the surprise announcement on January 14, at 10 am. Since then, speculations were abuzz that a pan Indian actor had been roped in to play a pivotal role in the project. The announcement of Sudeep's addition to Upendra's Kabza will be officially made by a star on Sakaranti along with a special poster. Upendra and Sudeep have previously shared screen space in Nanda Kishore's Mukunda Murari. This will be their second time working together. Interestingly, this will be Sudeep's first retro film.

R Chandru

Kabza is the third collaboration of R Chandru with Upendra after Brahma and I Love You, and it is the director's first time working with Sudeep.

Kabza will be following the KGF route and have a multilingual release. The film, which is being shot in Kannada, Tamil, and Telugu, will be dubbed and released in Malayalam, Hindi, Marathi, and Bengali.

Details of Sudeep's character, and when he will be participating in the shoot, are yet to be revealed.

Meanwhile, the team, who had pushed the shooting owing to the pandemic, will resume filming on January 25. The crew has come up with a huge jail set up, where the director plans to film an action block.

Kabza, made under Sri Siddeshwara Entertainments banner, is backed by MTB Nagaraj. The film will have music composed by Ravi Basrur and cinematography and editing by AJ Shetty and Mahesh Reddy, respectively.

Featuring a host of actors from different languages, Kabza will star Jagapathi Babu in a vital role, along with Naveen, Jaya Prakash, Kaat Raju, Subbraju, Avinash, and M Kamaraj. The director is in the process of finalising the heroine, and an announcement on that front can be expected soon.

Shubhrajyoti Barat

Subhash Kapoor liked my work in Mirzapur

SHILAJIT MITRA

ACTOR Shubhrajyoti Barat essays the antagonist in Subhash Kapoor's Madam Chief Minister. The film, which stars Richa Chadha as a Dalit leader, will be out in theatres on January 22. Shubhrajyoti was noted for his performance as Rati Shankar Shukla in Mirzapur season 1. He also played a pivotal role in Article 15.

On being part of the new film, the actor shares, "Madam Chief Minister came to me quite suddenly. I had met Subhash Kapoor ji once before at a common friend's place. I have always been an admirer of his work. I was introduced to him and he said that he really liked my work in Mirzapur. It was a brief meeting. So when I received a call after a few months, I was pleasantly surprised."

Shubhrajyoti continues, "He narrated the whole script and offered me the role. Of course, I took it. Apart from the fact that it's a Subhash Kapoor movie, the role itself is one of the most important in the story. So a great role in a brilliant story to be directed by a brilliant director. The decision was a no brainer."

He adds, "The film is a political thriller. It is also the story of a woman politician's journey from scratch to become the most powerful person in the state. What I think is interesting is the way this story has been told. That's it! I am not revealing anymore."

On his working experience with Subhash Kapoor, the actor shares, "Subhash ji is a man with whom I'd like to hang out without work. I think there is so much to learn from him that one needs to meet him outside a project as well. He has an excellent work culture. So one comes to respect his meticulousness and diligence while working with him. I really miss the conversations. Need to raid his office."

'Acting in films is not a luxury for me'

Aditi Prabhudeva tells CE that she considers herself a normal person who is working to earn her bread and butter

CE FEATURES

IT will be a busy birthday for Aditi Prabhudeva. The actor is currently juggling five projects, and she will be shooting for one of those on her special day. Being one of the busiest actors in Sandalwood today, she considers herself lucky to have a lot of work coming her way, especially during the time of the pandemic. "What excites me the most is that the projects that I have bagged came to me on the basis of my earlier work. It explains that showing off doesn't work here, and real talent is recognised by Kannada filmmakers," says Aditi, who has a handful of projects in hand, (Ombathane Dikku, Champion, Old Monk, Gajaanana and Gang, Aana, Totapuri, Tribble Riding, Bhagwan Sri Krishna Paramathma, 5D) out of which she has completed shooting for two while five are on floors and a couple more to begin.

Ask Aditi the question that she often faces, about why she hasn't got the opportunity to be paired opposite a star, and the actor replies, "Everyone is a star in their way. Each one comes with their strength. Yes, I am asked this question about why I am not been seen sharing screen space with a star. In fact, people also ask me why I don't wait for the opportunity. To them, I would like to say that being an actor does not shed my responsibilities away, and I don't live in a comfort zone. I consider this as pure work, like a garment worker or someone who has a nine-to-five job. It's just that I come on the screen, and they don't. So I consider myself a normal person who is not in a position to sit and wait for an opportunity for big-starrers to come my way. Instead, I have to go with what comes to me."

Aditi feels that whether it is stars or noted directors, everyone had a beginning marked with struggle. "My formula is that I want to get associated with people who give work to me. Every film that I have done or am doing has been accepted for a reason, be it the story, technical factors, or financial reasons. Acting in films is not a luxury for me, it is my bread and butter. I have come here to act, and so it doesn't come to my mind whether I am working in a small or a big film. Actors have a peak and they also fade at one point. Like every job, even actors have a replacement," she says.
